The Royal mail steamship Scotia, Capt. Judkins, which sailed from Liverpool at 10 o'clock on the morning of the 23d, and from Queenstown on the evening of the 24th of April, arrived here yesterday morning.

The steamship Edinburgh, from Liverpool April 19, also arrived at this port yesterday. Her news is anticipated.

The screw steamer America arrived at Southampton at 2 o'clock on the morning of the 22d ult.

The City of Cork arrived at Queenstown early on the morning of the 22d.

The City of Manchester passed Cape Clear at 2 A. M. on the 23d.

The North American was off Londonderry on the morning of the 23d.

Madeira advices of April 10 say that the rebel steamer Florida and the United States sloop St. Louis, had been at Madeira together. The St. Louis was allowed to sail twenty-four hours in advance of the Florida.

The Africa, from Boston, and Hecla, from New-York, passed Cape Clear April 24.

The steamship Belgian, which passed Port au Basque on Monday, was bound to Quebec, (instead of Portland,) being the first vessel of the Canadian line to that port for the season.

A later dispatch says:

The reports of the rebel steamer Florida and the United States sailing-ship St. Louis being at Madeira on the 8th of April are erroneous—being merely another account of their former visit.

The Court of Inquiry into the loss of the steamer Bohemian, is concluded. Capt. Borland's certificate is suspended for twelve months for want of sufficient caution and not sounding.

The British Postmaster-General had renewed for seven years the postal contract with the Pacific Steam Navigation Company of Liverpool, for the conveyance of the mails between the various South American ports and the Isthmus of Panama.

The London Express, of April 21, has this paragraph:

"The statement that the Hamburg and American steamer Bavaria was captured by a Danish man-of-war was inaccurate. The Bavaria arrived at Southampton on Wednesday night, from Hamburg. When she was off Hythe, in Southampton, she ran into the Channel Islands mail packet Normandy, and so seriously damaged her that she was unable to proceed. The Normandy had just left Southampton pier with upward of 500 passengers, a large cargo, and the Channel Island mails. It was a beautiful night. It was a near chance that the Normandy was not cut down to the water's edge, and that a great sacrifice of life did not take place. Only two lady passengers were injured—one a Mrs. Hennikey, who has her shoulder dislocated, was removed to the Dolphin Hotel; the other has a son dying in one of the Channel Islands, and she proceeded on yesterday morning. The crash of the collision was heard at the railway station, a distance of three miles."

OUR LONDON CORRESPONDENCE.

Garibaldi Driven from England—L'Enfant Terrible—Plenty of Certificates—A "Red" Speech, and Poor Tray in Bad Company—The Conference—That Mexican Resolution—Mr. Bright and the Atlantic Telegraph.

London, Saturday, April 23, 1864.

Garibaldi has been driven from England. I told you so—I said there would be trouble soon, and there is a precious row about it. I am sorry to write slang. My tendencies, as you know by long observation, are to a style severely classic, but the red-shirted democracy is boiling up just now, and one may be excused for writing like a sans-culotte or a costermonger.

Garibaldi has been driven from England. Earl Clarendon denies it. Lord Palmerston denies it. Mr. Gladstone tries very hard to deny it in the Times, Morning Post, and Telegraph, but it is true for all that, They got an English physician to certify that two or three months of continuous ovations, with heavy dinners, late hours and hard drinking, might not be good for his precious health. True, Garibaldi said he was quite well, and equal to any amount of fatigue; his Italian surgeon said he was all the better for change of scene and excitement. It wouldn't do. The conference appointed for the 12th, and put off to the 20th, is again adjourned. The Emperor will not come while Garibaldi is in England. The Austrian Ambassador will not enter the Conference while Garibaldi is here, stirring up sympathy for Venice. Russia will not sit at that table while Garibaldi is making speeches to Poles; and Prussia will give it a wide berth while he is here telling the Danes that he is ready to volunteer in the service of Denmark.

The enfant terrible of European politics must be got rid of. Mr. Gladstone, according to his own confession on Thursday night, in the House of Commons, did go to Stafford House, the residence of the Duke of Sutherland, and did advise Garibaldi not to keep his engagement to visit thirty or forty English and Scotch towns, to which he had been invited. Of course, it was entirely on account of his precious health, which is of so much importance to the British Ministry. Bah! Bosh! These are mild ejaculations compared with those of the great unwashed and seldom washed British public who have had their own pet lion first taken out of their hands by a bloated aristocracy, lodged in a ducal mansion, breakfasted and dined and fêted by the nobility, while they were left to hurrah in the streets. But they are not going to give him up without a protest. A great mass meeting is called to assemble on Primrose Hill, to-night. Other meetings will be held, and the aristocracy and Ministry will be denounced, and Garibaldi, rather disgusted with the whole business, will go back to Caprera.

If Mazzini could be got rid of as easily, and if a physician could be found to recommend a milder or rougher climate, it would be convenient. But he lives in obscure lodgings, under a false name, and his presence may be passed over. The Emperor has been too dignified or too prudent to make any demand. The act by which he was denied asylum in Switzerland was very conspicuously printed in the Moniteur, but the hint has not been taken.

The Earl of Shaftesbury, good innocent man, declares upon his honor as a gentleman that he believes that Mr. Gladstone and all Garibaldi's friends advised him to leave England for his own good. He has gone—that is he went to Weymouth yesterday, and will embark as soon as our rowdy Duke of Sutherland, the "Mose" of the nobility, who gets up from a sumptuous dinner party to "run wid der machine," can bring round his yacht and take him to his island home. But not one word has Garibaldi said, even in his parting address, about leaving on account of his health. When asked about it, his reply has been, "Look at me!" I did look at him a day or two ago, when he was going through Fleet-street to Guildhall to receive the freedom of the city, and he looked as tough as any old soldier or sailor I have seen in many a day.

But when a man goes to a Red Republican meeting in London, with Mazzini, Herzen, Ogareff and other European Radicals, and makes such a speech as the following, is it likely he would be a welcome guest to the Ministry? A revolutionary toast having been given and drunk with enthusiasm, Garibaldi rose and said:

"I am about to make a declaration which I ought to have made long ago. There is a man among us here who has rendered the greatest services to our country and to the cause of liberty. When I was a young man, having nought but aspirations toward the good, I sought for one able to act as the guide and counselor of my young years. I sought such a man, even as he who is athirst seeketh the spring. I found the man. He alone watched when all around him slept; he alone fed the sacred flame. He has ever remained my friend; ever as full of love for his country, and of devotion to the cause of liberty. This man is Joseph Mazzini—To my friend and teacher. At these words many of those present were moved to tears. The General afterward rose a second time and said: 'Mazzini has uttered some words with regard to unhappy Poland, to which I adhere with all my heart. Now, let us drink to that young Russia, that suffers, struggles and shall triumph like ourselves, and is destined to play a noble and important part in Europe.' After this, raising his glass for the last time, Garibaldi drank 'to that free England, whose generous hospitality and noble and fruitful sympathy have won from all oppressed peoples so large a debt of gratitude and affection.'"

That free England! I am going at five o'clock to-night up to that pretty Primrose Hill to see a small gathering of that free England, which meets to protest against the banishment of Garibaldi. It will be too late to send you an account of the meeting, if worth it, which is not likely—if it should be, you will hear from it hereafter. But can you wonder that after that speech Mr. Gladstone thought it was not healthy for Garibaldi to stay in England?

The Conference is to assemble on Monday. There is not much confidence that it will do so. The Prussians have taken Duppel. The Danes retreated to Alsen, with a loss of about 2,000. The next move of the German allies is to reduce Fredericia and occupy the whole of Jutland, as security for the costs of the war. It may be that the postponements of the Conference have been to enable them to do this before the armistice, which would naturally be one of the first objects of the diplomacy. With the strong point of possession of all continental Denmark, holding Jutland to compel the evacuation of Alsen, the Germans can wait for a settlement, with every advantage. The treaty of 1852 will be thrown aside as obsolete—as much out of date as the treaty of Vienna. The Emperor will demand that the people of the Duchies shall be allowed to choose their own rulers, and settle their own political relations. The crown of King Christian, one would say, was not worth a long purchase. The Danes are very likely to throw him over, and Denmark, what is left of it, will unite itself to a Scandinavian kingdom.

The Mexican resolution, passed unanimously by the American House of Representatives, has taken Europe by surprise. It has been supposed that the Federal Government had about as heavy a job on its hands as it can manage. It has been reported that Mr. Dayton had been instructed to assure the Emperor Maximilian of the recognition and friendship of his Government. Under these circumstances, the resolution was what may be called a stunner. I can understand very well how it was unanimous. Mr. Ben. Wood and all the Copperheads would, of course, vote for it joyfully. But I do not understand what explanation Mr. Dayton can offer to the Emperor, who has put a stopper on the French iron-clads and the Rappahannock. It may have been thought necessary, to make political capital at home, and the explanation made by the London Star may find acceptance. The Star says the resolution is not intended to be carried into effect until after the subjugation of the South. It is conditional on the success of the Federal arms. It is merely saying to the Emperor—"Go ahead, old fellow; we have our hands full just now; but let us get through with this little matter and we will attend to your business." Of course, under these circumstances, the Emperor will be very anxious to have you get through with the little job in hand, and will render every assistance consistent with a neutral Power.

The Mexican Emperor has been to Rome, received the blessing of the Pope, paid a visit to the Ex-King of Naples, and is on his way to Vera Cruz and those "Halls of the Montezumas." Arrived there, he will be met by Mr. Corwin, with the resolutions of the House of Representatives, and also by Mr. Preston and General the Prince Polignac, with the compliments of Mr. Jefferson Davis.

To be a little over-sanguine is an Amercan trait; and when I said you might expect the Great Eastern in June with your end of the Atlantic telegraph wire, I was only a year ahead of my proper reckoning. It will be on the 4th of July 1865,—some other Fourth of July,—when we may expect a message of peace through the ocean. Mr. Cyrus Field gave a little dinner at the Palace Hotel, Pimlico, in celebration of the coming event, at which a short speech was made by Mr. Adams, and a longer and excellent one by Mr. Bright, for which you will doubtless find room in your columns. Mr. Bright is faithful among the faithless, and hopeful among the despairing. He believes in America and its destiny with a faith as robust as his person, and he denounces with characteristic heartiness "the lies and frightful calumnies which a great newspaper in this country and another great newspaper in New-York treat both hemispheres to." If he could only get all Americans and all Englishmen together around a good dinner like Mr. Field's, he believed they would agree as well as the company he was addressing. It is certain that America ought to be grateful to Mr. Bright. MONADNOK.

GREAT BRITAIN.

GARIBALDI.

CAUSE OF HIS UNEXPECTED DEPARTURE.

In the House of Commons, April 21,

Mr. Kinnaird asked the Chancellor of the Exchequer a question with respect to his share in advising Gen. Garibaldi to leave England. (Oh, oh!)

The Chancellor of the Exchequer said, as far as he was concerned, he felt obliged to his honorable friend for putting the question. Undoubtedly very serious misstatements had appeared in the public journals, but he did not think anything more distasteful to the House than that there should be any secret interference or mystery in such a case in the conduct of any public man. He would shortly state his share in the proceedings which had given rise to those incorrect and absurd rumors. On Sunday last, the Duke of Sutherland informed him that he and other friends of Garibaldi were beginning to entertain serious apprehensions with respect to the state of the General's health, and that Mr. Fergusson had visited him.

Mr. Scully rose to order, and objected to this irrelevant proceeding.

The Speaker ruled that the right honorable gentleman was in order.

The Chancellor of the Exchequer proceeded. He was requested to go to Stafford House that evening to consider what advice should be given to Gen. Garibaldi on this subject. He considered that the Duke of Sutherland had not only exercised a princely hospitality to Gen. Garibaldi, but had performed a great public service; and, therefore, felt that it was his duty to comply with his wish. At Stafford House he found various persons assembled, and it was stated that Garibaldi had already accepted invitations, conditionally, to visit about thirty towns; that the list was growing rapidly day by day, and that there was the expressed declaration of Mr. Fergusson that the health of the General could not stand the exhaustion of these public demonstrations, of the effect of which most of them had some experience, though in a very slight degree as compared to what Gen. Garibaldi would have to anticipate. The noble Duke, the Earl of Shaftesbury, Col. Peard, Gen. Elber, and other friends of the General, then consulted together, and all came to the conclusion that it was their duty to advise Gen. Garibaldi to contract the very wide circle of his provincial excursions, and to fix it finally before he left London, in order that it might not be enlarged by future applications. This was made known to the General by two of his friends and he (Mr. Gladstone) was afterward requested, and readily undertook, to tell him what he thought on the subject. He therefore ventured to represent that it was scarcely possible for him to go through the labor without great injury to his health, which, he ventured to add, the people of England felt to be an object of value to his country. He ventured also to point out that there was some risk that the magnificant national reception that had been given to him in the great metropolis of England (which already formed a great national event) might possibly lose some of its real dignity from being repeated frequently elsewhere. Gen. Garibaldi heard him with great patience, and stated that in his opinion there was great force in his observations, but he had great difficulty in drawing a distinction between the claims and wishes of one town and another; but he considered that the purpose of his visit had already been attained. He had come to England, he said, not with a view to obtain honor for himself, but to render his thanks to the Government and people of England for what he considered they had done toward his country. It appeared to him that in visiting London, he had visited the entire nation, and that the purpose of his journey was accomplished. His promises were conditional, and he was perfectly at liberty, but he hoped at some future time to come to England in a less formal manner. It could only be the very busy and active imaginations of persons who had nothing better to do than go about from club to club inquiring for something new, that could have brought political motives into this discussion, It was hardly material to mention that both officially and unofficially he was aware, before he went to Stafford House, that there was no ground for the ridiculous reports that umbrage was taken on the other side of the water at the reception of Garibaldi here. Very little truth was often the means of introducing a great deal of error, and the accidental circumstance of his being called upon to advise about the health of Gen. Garibaldi had been made the foundation of stories which he need hardly declare to be entirely destitute of the slightest foundation of truth.

Mr. Scully wished to know if the right hon. gentleman intended to convey the impression that the visit of Garibaldi to London represented a visit to Ireland as well as England.—["Oh, oh!" and laughter.]

The Chancellor of the Exchequer replied that he had made no statement to Gen. Garibaldi with respect either to the people of England or the people of Ireland, but had left the General to decide for himself.

GARIBALDI AND THE AMERICANS.

From the London Express, April 22.

Gen. Garibaldi having expressed a desire to meet the Americans resident in London before his departure, accepted an invitation to breakfast with Mr. Morse, Consul of the United States, at his residence, No. 3 Kensington-gate, yesterday morning. There were present Mr. F. M. Morse, Mrs. and Miss Morse, Mr. Adams, the United States Minister; Mr. Wilson and Mr. Moran, of the United States Legation; Hon. W. M. Evarts, Mr. J. S. Morgan, Mr. W. E. Forster, M. P., and Mrs. Forster; Mr. C. W. Field, Mr. Rossini, &c. Subsequently, a large number of American ladies and gentlemen were presented. Gen. Garibaldi expressed himself warmly in favor of the United States in the struggle with the slave power, and said he would go there at once and tender his services if they were needed, but happily they were not. He also said he was proud to acknowledge himself a citizen of the United States, and that he could claim them as his adopted country. They were the great bulwark of human liberty. England and America, united in sentiment, would keep the peace of the world.

A VISIT FROM THE PRINCE OF WALES.

On leaving Kensington-gate Gen. Garibaldi and Mr. Seely, M. P., proceeded to the residence of the Earl of Shaftesbury, Grosvenor-square, where they remained until nearly 12 o'clock. At the latter hour the General, accompanied by the noble Earl and Mr. Seely, left Grosvenor-square in an open carriage and pair for Stafford House, arriving there at 12:20. Very few people were about, it being generally supposed the General had left town. Great interest however, will be felt in the announcement that at Stafford House a meeting took place between the Prince of Wales and Gen. Garibaldi. His Royal Highness reached town yesterday morning at an early hour, and proceeded to Marlborough House. The Prince, with two gentlemen, appears to have driven in a brougham in the direction of Buckingham Palace, and to have there alighted and walked on foot to Stafford House, entering at a private door without attracting any observation. The Prince of Wales remained at Stafford House for upward of an hour.

The London Times remarks that "the news of the private and friendly visit of the Prince of Wales to Gen. Garibaldi will give sincere satisfaction to the country."

MISCELLANEOUS NOTICES OF THE HERO'S MOVEMENTS.

Garibaldi breakfasted with 200 members of the Reform Club on the 21st. He reiterated his deep gratitude to the English nation, and declared that England was his adopted country. On the evening of that day he visited the House of Lords while it was in session, and met with a cordial reception.

A Workingmens' Garibaldi Reception Committee, which sits at the Whittington Club, London, on the night of the 21st, passed a series of mischievous and intemperate resolutions, founded on the assumption that Garibaldi's health is very good, that the opinions of Mr. Ferguson, Mr. Seely and others of the General's friends, as to the risk of a break-down, are not worth notice, and that he goes on account of the pressure put upon him by the governing classes. Meetings are recommended for the purpose of expressing the indignation of the workingmen of London; the first to be held on Primrose Hill, on Sunday, the 24th, and a final resolution proposes that this Committee put itself into communication with all the workingmen's societies in the metropolis and the provinces.

PARTING ADDRESS OF GARIBALDI.

The following is Garibaldi's address to the English nation, on his departure:

"I offer my heartfelt gratitude and thanks to the English nation and their Government, for the reception I have met with in this free land. I came here with the primitive object of thanking them for their sympathy for me and for my country, and this, my first object, is accomplished. I have desired to be altogether at the disposition of my English friends, and to go to every place where I might be wished to go, but I find that I cannot now fulfill all these engagements of my heart. If I have caused some trouble and disappointment to my friends, I ask their pardon, but I cannot draw the line between where I could and where I could not go, and therefore, for the present, these are my thanks and my farewell. Still I hope, perhaps at no distant time, to return to see my friends in the domestic life of England, and to redeem some of the engagements with the generous people of this country, which, with deep regret, I feel that I cannot now fulfill.

(Signed,) G. GARIBALDI.

AMERICAN TOPICS.

MR. ADAMS AND MR. BRIGHT ON AMERICAN AFFAIRS.

The promoters of the Atlantic Telegraph Company dined together on the 15th, at the Palace hotel, London, Mr. Cyrus W. Field in the chair. There were also present, the American Minister, Lord John Hay, Mr. Bright, M. P., Capt. Shearard Osborne, &c. The American Minister, in replying to the toast of his health, said: I think that the best way to keep England and the United States in harmony, is to establish the Atlantic Telegraph, which will be one of the most memorable events in history, for everything that tends to bring the two nations closer together will have the effect, I am sure, of perpetuating harmony between them. From the little observation I have made since I came here, one thing has struck me more than anything else, and that is the existence of prejudices on both sides of the Atlantic which require for their removal only a little more familiarity between the two peoples. I have seen statements made in public prints here with respect to the acts of my country which I know they would not have believed if they had had any opportunity of knowing the truth from personal experience. [Hear, hear.] So, likewise, on the other side of the Atlantic, there are newspapers which have made statements with respect to Great Britain which would not have been made if the writers had known what the British people really are, and what are their real feelings. [Cheers.] Mr. Field, in proposing the health of Mr. Bright, said he hoped the honorable gentleman would soon visited the United States, where he would be sure of receiving a welcome such as no man living ever received.

Mr. Bright, M. P., in returning thanks, said: I could easily rob Mr. Field of the originality of the statement of what would happen should I visit the United States. I have at times received a great many letters from gentlemen in this country, and one of them did say there were several penalties I should have to pay, and that he thought one of them was that nearly all the children would be called after me. [Laughter.] Well, if this and a great many other dreadful things which he told me would happen are true, I am, I think, very prudent in staying in this country. I have never been in America, but for the last 30 years, which is a long time to look back to, I have had a very strong wish to go there; but most of us Englishmen find we have, in the management of our business, so much to do that six months' absence is not an easy thing to accomplish. Englishmen are, I will not say more attached but much more tied to their homes than Americans are. However, whenever Mr. Field is able to tell us that the war is over, that the Union is restored, and that there are none but freemen on his continent—[hear, hear,]—then, if I could be only a few years younger than I am at all likely to be, I might be induced to promise to pay you a visit. [Hear, hear.] I do not know how many of the fifty or sixty gentlemen here assembled are Englishmen, or how many of them are American. It is not at all necessary to discriminate, but it is worthy of notice that you could not tell one from the other. [Hear, hear.] That is not remarkable, for those who were our ancestors were also your ancestors; but it is a very provoking thing that there should be people who would make us foreigners and strangers to each other. [Cheers.] I am sure it would be possible to go through the United States and select a number of Americans and Englishmen equal to the fifty or sixty now in this room, and if you put them together you will find the one-half of them just as well disposed to the other half as we are to each other, and just as able to enjoy the good things prepared for them. There would not be among them the slightest disposition to quarrel. [Cheers.] They would begin to think that all the abuse they had heard of each other was false, and the lies and shameful calumnies to which a great newspaper here and the great newspaper in New-York treat both hemispheres, would no longer be regarded. [Loud cheers.] There are some persons in England who are very jealous of America. It is too big, they think, to govern itself. They, citizens of a country that rules an empire of 160 millions of people some thousand miles away, have a most profound opinion that a compact population of 30 millions is really too large for America to govern. [Cheers and laughter.] This national jealousy is very stupid, to say the least of it. Although we are not at war, the war in America is producing unfortunate results, to one branch of our commerce in particular, and is stirring up memories which had better been buried forever. [Cheers.] From all this comes—from men, some partially ignorant, some suspicious men of contracted intellect, ignorant of what makes the great and true glory of nations—a great jealousy of the United States. It was in ancient times considered the great glory of a State to plant powerful colonies, and they did not glory the less in them because they became independent. [Hear, hear, and cheers.] Thus the United States have been our colonies. They are now truly an independent nation, but still they are our colonies. What can be more contemptible than a feeling of jealousy of the great nation we ourselves have planted on the other side of the Atlantic, in the face of all we are taught in history to value as great and glorious? [Cheers.] We have achieved whatever glory is involved in carrying that which is good in this country to a higher point than any other country in history ever attained. [Hear, hear.] We have lately heard a great deal of the advantages of an universal language; but when I look upon the United States, with a population of thirty millions of people, with peace restored, with Government reëstablished, with schools and classes enough for the general and religious education of the people, I feel that in the short space of ten years that population will grow to such a degree that even in the lifetime of our children we shall have the English language spoken by one hundred millions of free people. [Cheers.] What a magnificent contemplation that is. [Loud cheers.] If I chance to go further, to the Australian colonies, there, too, are our institutions, and there the English language is spoken as it is in the United States. And then if I come to our vast dependencies in the East, inhabited by 150,000,000 of people, among all of whom the English language is extending its influence, we shall have the educated people of Hindostan, in the course of 20 or 30 years, should the connection continue so long, also speaking in our tongue. [Hear, hear.] In South Africa, too, the English language is making its way; so that this language, in which the greatest men who ever lived have written and spoken, is being universally extended, by the help of commerce and civilization, until it promises to belt the world. [Cheers.] This being so, I want to know why men keep up a spirit of cavil and of jealousy between the two nations. I cannot conceive any man more thoroughly an enemy not only to his own country but to humanity itself, than he who lends himself to create and keep alive this animosity between the United States and this more ancient English nation. [Cheers.] I agree with what Mr. Adams has said about the political importance of this great undertaking. I was speaking just before I came here to a member of the present Cabinet, and I told him as I was leaving the House of Commons that I was going to dine with the friends of the Atlantic telegraph. His countenance immediately brightened up, and he said, "I look on that as the most glorious thing man ever attempted; there is nothing which so lays hold of my sympathies." [Cheers.] In saying that he only spoke the feelings of every intelligent and moral man in the whole world. When the last cable was laid, did not every man feel as if a new world and a new time were opened to him? He felt as a man might have felt 400 years ago, when the adventurous Genoese sailor opened a new world to the knowledge and enterprise of mankind. Columbus, however, only discovered to Europe what was an uncultivated wilderness. It is now inhabited by 30 millions, who will now be connected with the 250 millions who inhabit Europe by the grand, the sublime (if we look at results) and magnificent enterprise to which Mr. Field has devoted his life, and I hope we shall soon be able to congratulate him upon the success of that to which we look forward with so strong and intense an interest. [Cheers.]

OUTRAGE UPON A BRITISH SUBJECT.

In the House of Commons, on April 22, Lord R. Cecil desired to ask the Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs a question with respect to an outrage upon a British subject, the report of which had appeared in the papers within the last few days. The outrage to which he referred took place upon the coast of North America. It was alleged that a Lieutenant of Marines, serving on board an American ship, had wounded a British subject who had been taken on board a blockade-runner, and under circumstances of some aggravation. The result was that the British subject had been maimed for life. He wanted to know whether any information had reached the Foreign-office with respect to this rumor; and if so, whether any communication had been addressed by her Majesty's Government to the Government of the United States.

Mr. Layard said they had received information which very nearly coincided with the statement of the noble lord. A correspondence was now going on, and her Majesty's Government had demanded redress from the Government of the United States for the outrage—[hear, hear.]

THE ALEXANDRA SURRENDERED.

The Alexandra has been given up by the Government to her owners.

THE BANKRUPT PEARSON.

Mr. Commissioner Gouldburn, on April 23, gave judgment in the case of Mr. L. C. Pearson, shipowner. The Commissioner came to the conclusion that the bankrupt has been guilty of rash and hazardous speculation, and traded on fictitious capital. On these grounds he should suspend the order of discharge for six months, with protection.

PROCEEDINGS OF PARLIAMENT.

THE DANISH QUESTION.

In the House of Lords on the 21st, Earl Russell, in reply to the Earl of Carnarvon, stated that the reason the conference on the affairs of Denmark and Germany had been postponed till the 25th, was, that the Austrian and Prussian representatives had received instructions not to take part in the conference until M. Beust, the representative of the German Diet was present.

The Earl of Malmesbury hoped the Government would be on their guard against the repetition of these postponements.

FIRE INSURANCE.

In the House of Commons on the same evening, after some slight show of opposition, Mr. Gladstone's recommendations in regard to the Fire Insurance duties were agreed to.

CHINA.

In the House of Commons on the 22d there was a debate on China, Mr. Liddell having moved a resolution against the policy of the British Government in favoring the imperialists. In the course of the debate the House was "counted out" for lack of a quorum.

THE STEAMSHIP CITY OF NEW-YORK.

HER FINAL BREAKING UP AND TOTAL LOSS.

From the London Times, April 23.

On Thursday last, sixteen days after the striking of the ship, it came on to blow strongly from the southward. The high sea during the night lifted and shook the vessel. When she first ran upon the rock she lay as straight on her keel as in a graving dock: a pendulum on board showed a nearly perfect perpendicular. But after the sea of Thursday night she lurched to starboard to the extent of 45 degrees. It gradually became evident that she was bilged, and would not last very long, especially if there were any heavy weather. Even at low water the sea was over her starboard topgallant-rail, and at high flood the greater part of her hurricane deck was covered. Orders which had been given to the local shipbuilding yards for the construction of caissons were countermanded, and the last batch of workmen were sent back to Liverpool on Sunday morning. Some renewed hope appears to have occurred to the parties in charge, as the orders for the caissons were subsequently renewed; but the weather of yesterday must have effectually dissipated these notions. Throughout yesterday a strong wind from S. S. W. prevailed, which toward nightfall freshened into a gale, and this morning the sea was very heavy. In the forenoon the ship was observed to be lying nearly on her beam ends, the waves making a complete breach over her, and the foremast evidently going over the side. At noon she suddenly broke in two, between the main and mizzen masts, just at the entrance to her principal saloon. The mainmast and all the centre compartments disappeared; for about two or three hours after the foremast was visible; the foremast then went; there was still visible a portion of the port quarter, but about 6 P. M. there was nothing to be seen above water but the upper part of the mizzenmast. The sea between Daunt's Rock and the harbor's mouth was covered with drift from the wreck, consisting of parts of her deck-house, bulwarks, and internal fittings. Capt. Kennedy, who remained on board the ship as long as it was possible to find a safe spot in her, and subsequently stood by her in a tugboat, this evening came in to Queenstown.

THE MEXICAN QUESTION.

THE CONVENTION BETWEEN FRANCE AND MEXICO.

The Paris Moniteur, in its official part, contains the text of the convention concluded between France and Mexico, to regulate the conditions of the stay of the French troops in this last-named country for the purpose of reëstablishing order and consolidating the new empire. The convention runs thus:

"The Government of the Emperor of the French and that of the Emperor of Mexico, animated with an equal desire to secure the reëstablishment of order in Mexico and to consolidate the new empire, have resolved to regulate by a convention the conditions of the stay of the French troops in that country, and have named their plenipotentiaries to that effect, viz:

The Emperor of the French, M. Charles Herbet, Minister Plenipotentiary of the first class, Councillor of State, Director of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Grand Officer of the Legation of Honor, &c.;

And the Emperor of Mexico, M. Joaquin Velasquez de Leon, his Minister of State without portfolio, Grand Officer of the distinguished Order of Our Lady of Guadalupe, &c.;

Who, after having communicated to each other their full powers, agreed on the following provisions:

Art. 1. The French troops at present in Mexico shall be reduced as soon as possible to a corps of 20,000 men, including the foreign legion. This corps, in order to safeguard the interests which led to the intervention, shall remain temporarily in Mexico on the conditions laid down by the following articles:

Art. 2. The French troops shall evacuate Mexico in proportion as the Emperor of Mexico shall be able to organize the troops necessary to replace them.

Art. 3. The foreign legion in the service of France, composed of 8,000 men, shall nevertheless remain in Mexico six years after all the other French troops shall have been recalled in conformity with Art. 2. From that moment the said legion shall pass into the service and pay of the Mexican Government, which reserves to itself tee right of abridging the duration of the employment of the foreign legion in Mexico.

Art. 4. The points of the territory to be occupied by the French troops, as well as the military expeditions of the said troops, if there be any, shall be determined in common accord, directly between the Emperor of Mexico and the Commandant-in-chief of the French corps.

Art. 5. On all the points where the garrison shall not be exclusively composed of Mexican troops, the military command shall devolve on the French commander. In case of expeditions combined of French and Mexican troops, the superior direction of those troops shall also belong to the French commander.

Art. 6. The French commanders shall not interfere with any branch of the Mexican Administration.

Art. 7. So long as the requirements of the French corps d'armée shall necessitate a two-monthly service of transports between France and Vera Cruz, the expense of the said service, fixed at the sum of 400,000f. per voyage (going and returning) shall be paid by Mexico.

Art. 8. The naval stations which France maintains in the West Indies and in the Pacific Ocean shall often send vessels to show the French flag in the ports of Mexico.

Art. 9. The expenses of the French expedition to Mexico, to be paid by the Mexican Government, are fixed at the sum of 270,000,000f., for the whole duration of the expedition down to the 1st of July, 1864. That sum shall bear interest at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum. From the 1st of July all the expense of the Mexican army shall be at the charge of Mexico.

Art. 10. The indemnity to be paid to France by the Mexican Government for the pay and maintenance of the troops of the corps d'armée after the 1st July, 1864, remains fixed at the sum of 1,000f. a year for each man.

Art. 11. The Mexican Government shall hand over to the French Government the sum of 66,000,000 in bonds of the loan at the rate of issue, viz.: 54,000,000 to be deducted from the debt mentioned in Art. 9, and 12,000,000 as an installment of the indemnities due to Frenchmen in virtue of Art. 14 of the present convention.

Art. 12. For the payment of the surplus of the war expenses and for acquitting the charges in Arts. 7, 10 and 14, the Mexican Government engages to pay annually to France the sum of 25,000,000 in specie. That sum shall be imputed: 1. To the sums due in virtue of Arts. 7 and 10. 2. To the amount, interest and principal, of the sum fixed in Art. 9. 3. To the indemnities which shall remain due to French subjects in virtue of Art. 14 and following.

Art. 13. The Mexican Government shall pay, on the last day of every month, into the hands of the Paymaster-General of the army, what shall be due for covering the expenses of the French troops remaining in Mexico, in conformity with Article 10.

Art. 14. The Mexican Government engages to indemnify French subjects for the wrongs they have unduly suffered, and which were the original cause of the expedition.

Art. 15. A mixed commission, composed of three Frenchmen and three Mexicans, appointed by their respective Governments, shall meet at Mexico within three months, to examine and determine these claims.

Art. 16. A commission of revision, composed of two Frenchmen and two Mexicans, appointed in the same manner, sitting at Paris, shall proceed to the definitive liquidation of the claims already admitted by the commission designated in the preceding article, and shall decide on those which may have been reserved for its decision.

Art. 17. The French Government shall set at liberty all the Mexican prisoners of war as soon as the Emperor of Mexico shall have entered his States.

Art. 18. The present convention shall be ratified, and the ratifications exchanged as early as possible.

Done at the Castle of Miramar, this 10th day of April, 1864.

AMERICA AND THE NEW EMPIRE OF MEXICO.

The Paris Temps, of the 21st, says: "A singular error committed by the Moniteur this morning, shows that the official journal can lay no more claims to infallibility than the common run of newspapers. The Moniteur declares that the mails from New-York bring 'no news which merits attention.' But we read in the American dispatches of the Times that the Chamber of Representatives at Washington unimously voted, on the 4th of April, a resolution, proposed by Mr. Winter Davis, to the effect that the United States can never recognize or tolerate a monarchy in Mexico. The Independence Belge gives the same news, with a variation, according to which the Congress has simply protested against a monarchy established with the assistance of a European Power. Whichever may be right, we can only believe in an inadvertance of the Moniteur. It cannot have wished to suppress news, which is by no means unexpected, and the importance of which must not moreover be exaggerated. The Chamber of Representatives at Washington is not the American Government. The President is much more independent of Parliament than the Queen of England. The resolution we are announcing is not so much an act as an indication. We may, besides, be certain that the United States will leave Mexico tranquil while the civil war is unfinished. As to the eventualities which may arise after the reëstablishment of the Union, the Emperor Maximilian would have been very imprudent had he not already thought of them; and as he has accepted the Crown, we must conclude that he considers himself prepared to brave the hostility of the United States."

MAXIMILIAN'S FAREWELL.

The Emperor Maximilian, before embarking for Mexico, addressed the following letter to M. Porenta, Mayor of Trieste:

Miramar, April 12, 1864.

In placing myself, full of confidence in the aid of Heaven, at the head of a distant empire, I cannot refrain from addressing a last and mournful farewell to the dear and beautiful city of Trieste. I have always entertained a serious affection for that place, which has become, in a certain manner, my native town, and I feel, in leaving Europe, how strong are the grateful remembrances which bind me to it. I shall never forget the cordial amiability of its inhabitants, nor the proofs of attachment which the people of Trieste have given to my person and to my house. That remembrance will follow me abroad as a friendly consolation and a happy augury for the future. I shall always be pleased to learn that my gardens at Miramar are visited by the inhabitants of Trieste, and I desire that they shall remain open every day so long as circumstances permit. In order that the poor shall preserve a token of my affection, I have invested a sum of 20,000 florins (50,000 francs) so that the interest may be distributed annually on Christmas Eve, by the municipality, among the poor families of the city. As for myself, Monsieur Porenta, I confer on you the cross of commander in the order of my empire. MAXIMILIAN.

GENERAL NEWS.

THE DANISH WAR.

THE FALL OF DUPPEL.

We are enabled to give from the German papers some particulars of the fall of Duppel, in anticipation of the reports from the correspondent of the London papers. We learn from the Cologne Gazette that the Danish Gen. Gerlach was ill at the time, and that the command was entrusted to Gen. Steinmann. At the Cabinet Council which met at Copenhagen, on Friday, 15th, it was discussed whether Duppel should be abandoned or holden. Bishop Monrad, the Danish Premier, was for holding it. It is stated that the Danish army numbered 26,000 men, including, probably, the men brought from Fredericia. A fearful cannonade from the Prussian guns began at 11 on Sunday night, and lasted till 10 on Monday morning; and it was during this time that the preparations for a storming were made. Early on the 18th, Marshal Wrangel set out from Gravensteins, the Prussian headquarters, for Dybböl, accompanied by a large number of officers and surgeons. All was in activity. After the capture of the redoubts and the tête-de-pont already described, the fortress of Sönderborg appeared in the foreground. There were five forts behind each other which had rendered the Prussians powerless at sea. Three of them were captured. A telegram received in Hamburg on the morning of the 19th, states that the number of killed and wounded was 3,000, and required immediate assistance. This number, no doubt, included the Danes who were put hors du combat. In Rendsburg, as in Flensburg and Hamburg, news was received by telegraph and universally believed that the Prussians had got possession of Alsen.

A Copenhagen telegram of the 18th says:

"The Danish army is on the Island of Alsen. The bridges are destroyed.

A severe artillery engagement continues.

The Danish loss was great, especially in officers. The greater portion of the First Brigade is missing, and scarcely one half of the Eighth fell back in safety. The retreat of the right wing was, in comparison, effected more favorably, but also with a great loss.

One hundred dead and eight wounded were conveyed to the Island of Alsen."

Another Copenhagen dispatch, of the 20th, says:

"Nothing of importance occurred at the seat of war yesterday. Hostilities were suspended for six hours. Among our killed are one General of Division and two commanders of brigades. A flag of truce was sent to the enemy to obtain intelligence of our officers, wounded and prisoners. Two hundred of our killed have fallen into the hands of the Prussians."

A Prussian telegram dated Gravenstein, April 20, says: "Our loss on the 18th in killed and wounded amounted to 60 officers and upward of 1,000 men. The Danish loss, inclusive of prisoners, is at least 4,000 men; 811 Prussians, many of whom are severely wounded, and 21 Danish officers and 580 men, are now in our hospital."

The King of Prussia had gone to the seat of war. He passed through Flensburg and Rendsburg on the 21st, and was received with demonstrations of enthusiasm in both places. On the following day the King visited the vicinity of Duppel; the troops defiled before him, and he saluted and thanked those who stormed Duppel. It is said his visit to the Duchies is to sound the population and pave the way for a vote in conformity with the views of the Prussian Government. It is also said the Emperor of Austria was expected to visit the Duchies.

Military operations on the 21st were unimportant.

WHY THE CONFERENCE DID NOT ASSEMBLE.

From the London Telegraph, April 21.

The appointed meeting of the plenipotentiaries accredited to sit at the conference took place at the official residence of the First Lord of the Treasury on Wednesday; but no business could be transacted in consequence of the absence of the Austrian and Prussian ambassadors. They abstained from attending, it is understood, because, in their judgment, they could not assist at the Board until the arrival of M. Von Beust, the representative of the German Federation. That gentleman, however, was expected to arrive within a day or two, and the next meeting of the conference was fixed for Monday the 25th instant. It was justly assumed that the very earliest subject which would arise for discussion was that of an armistice, and we believe we are not wrong in asserting that it did not pass without mention on Wednesday. Of course nothing could be done of a practical nature, and even that urgent question must stand over with the rest until the appearance of the tardy traveler. In the meantime, however, events and the appreciation of them have made such advances to maturity that the plenipotentiaries, when once they do begin, are expected to proceed with unusual rapidity, at least on the broader and more pressing portion of the affairs intrusted to them.

A dispatch dated Berlin, April 20, says, rather curtly:

As the British Cabinet has fixed the 20th inst. as the date of the meeting of the conference without the consent of the great German Powers, and without considering that Baron von Beust cannot arrive in London for a few days, the Prussian representatives in London have received instructions not to be present at the opening of the conference as fixed by England.

It is asserted that the Austrian representatives have received similar instructions.

NOTES OF ADMIRALTY DECISIONS.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT.

Before Judge Betts.

COLLISION ON THE NORTH RIVER IN A FOG.

Robert H. McKibben vs. The Steamer C. Vanderbilt.—This was a libel for collision filed by the owner of the canal boat Canisteo, which, with her lading, was sunk by a collision with the steamboat on the morning of May 16, 1863. The canal-boat was coming down the river from Troy in tow of the tug O. C. Hubbard, which had two barges attached on each side, and the Vanderbilt was bound up the river to Troy. The collision occurred about a mile below the steamer's landing place, and opposite the arsenal on the West side of the river. Thirteen witnesses were examined in court in the case, with the usual differences of statement as to estimates of the speed of the vessels, their position and signals. There was a dense fog at the time, so that vessels were discoverable only a few yards off. The river was swollen several feet beyond its ordinary volume, by which the channel was much enlarged.

Held by the Court.—That the differences between the witnesses are not inconsistent with their common reliability.

That there is nothing to shake confidence in the testimony that signals were made from both vessels but were not heard by those for whom they were intended.

That the evidence given in behalf of the libelant outweighs that opposing it, which imputes negligence and fault to the libelant's vessel in leaving port that morning. The evidence of eye-witnesses on the spot, uninterested in the tug or her tow, establishes that there was promise of a clear and fair day when the libelant's boat put off from the dock at Troy. It was after sunrise when she got under way. No fog was then present but shortly afterwards the tug and the tow fell into the same dense fog bank into which the Vanderbilt came from below.

That no proper precaution was omitted on either vessel in being under weigh that morning until they came into the fog bank. There was nothing observable outside which could justly deter either of them from prosecuting their voyage until they found themselves enshrouded in fog.

That then a new condition of responsibilities in respect to both vessels had plainly occurred.

That neither steamer had succeeded in giving warning to the other of its approach or whereabouts by sounding its whistle. Not knowing that the endeavor to do so had been unsuccessful, each steamer was bound to act in protection of itself and others against impediments which might be encountered in the darkness (whether such apprehended obstacle might be met stationary or moving,) by the careful use of precautions appropriate to navigation at night through narrow and crowded passages and upon currents of unusual force or velocity.

That though by the river's being swollen and the channel enlarged, a large latitude of discretion was permitted to vessels as to the line of channel upon which they could prudently anchor or proceed in either direction, still they must be presumed to mean to observe the usages of the river, and as in the night-time, so under other circumstances which might intercept a clear view of the course which was safe to be taken, must hold their position or headway as near to the main channel and to that side of it as is required by custom.

That the familiar and common law governing the passing of vehicles meeting each other on the road or navigable waters, is for each to keep off to the right.

That the weight of evidence is that the tug was correctly on the west side of the channel, and as close to the west shore as she could be prudently navigated at the time, and that the Vanderbilt had ample and safe passage way in the channel or between it and the east shore.

That accepting the case to be that both vessels were without fault before they fell into the fog, it plainly became the duty of both not to advance further without securing their proper relative position in respect to other craft, reasonably to be expected to be lying or moving ahead of them.

That in this respect, the situation of the tug was unexceptionable, but the Vanderbilt was disproportionately out of the channel toward the west shore.

That the Vanderbilt was, continuing her headway off the track the law entitled her to take, unless from observation she had reason to believe it was open to her, which could not be so on the facts of the case.

That the consequences of her attempting to advance outside of the channel, or middle of the river, while her course was undiscoverable to the eye, was at her peril, and she must bear the consequences of the mistake.

Decree for libelant, with a reference to ascertain the damages.

For libelant, Mr. Morris and Mr. Nash; for claimant, Mr. Jones.

COLLISION—VESSEL AT ANCHOR—DUTIES OF TOW-BOAT.

Hannah M. Lake vs. The Steamtug Eleanor and the Canal-boat Beach.—This was a libel filed by the owner of the sloop Lady of the Lake, to recover the damages occasioned to her by being run into by the canal-boat while in tow of the steam-tug, on May 27, 1863. The sloop was lying at anchor in the East River, about opposite Pier No. 27, toward the Brooklyn side of the river, but near the middle. The canal-boat was lying at the end of Pier No. 27, East River, and was taken in tow by the tug to tow her to the foot of Thirty-sixth-street, East River. The tide was strong flood. The tow was started from about Pier No. 27, on a line straight across the river, several yards ahead of the bows of the sloop.

The canal-boat was towed on a hawser 50 yards or more from the stern of the tug and pointed from the start directly toward the sloop. The canal-boat was steered badly, and her crew did not tend her properly or obey the orders of the tug in her navigation. The sloop lay at anchor with her helm lashed. It was not manned or attempted to be used till the tug was about passing the bows of the sloop, and the canal-boat was not observed approaching till that time. The evidence was not clear that any hail from the tug to the sloop was heard on board her or addressed to her before the collision. There was no other vessel in the way.

The claimant of the tug, in his answer, set up that "the collision was wholly caused by the carelessness of those on board the canal-boat, and those on board of and having charge of the sloop," averring that the sloop was in fault in not porting her helm as the tug and tow approached her, in compliance with hails from the tug. The answer did not admit the ownership of the sloop.

The claimant also took the ground on the trial that the sloop was in fault in anchoring within sixty yards from a ferry landing-place contrary to law.

Held by the Court.—That the evidence does not show that the sloop was at anchor within sixty yards of a ferry-landing.

That this point is not set up in the answer and is not therefore a triable matter in the suit.

That the tug being the propelling power over the canal-boat, with authority and means to control her movements, is responsible within the doctrine laid down in the case of the Express (1 Blatch. C. C. R., 365) for the course pursued by the canal-boat, to the like extent as if the canal-boat were lashed alongside, and is responsible for all injuries wrongly inflicted by the tug or tow upon the sloop, when the latter is not proved to have blamably contributed to the collision. She is no less the agent of the tort, if committed through the tow, than if done by herself alone.

That it appears to have been wholly at the option of the tug whether to move out into the stream, or, if she must cross the river, to have crossed under the stern of the sloop or ahead of her. The difficulties and dangers of attempting the latter manœuvre must have been manifest to the master of the tug, unless he was careful to secure a line of transit for his tow greatly more than thirty or fifty yards off from her bows, to enable him to overcome the pressure of his vessels upon her by the strong flood tide. This step of itself would be one of rash carelessness unless compelled by stringent exigency.

That there was on the proofs no extraneous or unexpected exposure which pushed the tug into the difficulty. Her destination was only nine piers further up, on the same side of the river; and the sloop being anchored east of the channel, there does not appear to have been any necessity for crossing the river, or encountering the tide.

That the course adopted by the claimant was one of its own selection, and it would seem that he regarded his duty as limited to supplying the necessary motive force to the canal-boat, and taking the tug through her route, and that all the mischances of the voyage flowing from movements of the canal-boat were to be justified or atoned for by her alone.

That this was clearly a mistaken notion, the tug was responsible alike for the correct management of both vessels.

That the master of the tug exerted himself by exhortations and orders on the transit to induce the canal-boat to change her course so as to avoid the collision, but he failed to use the power he possessed to draw her away from the dangerous path.

That if the canal-boat had been left to drift by the tide, she would have gone clear. The power of the tug, instead of protecting the sloop from the collision, was an active instrumentality in effecting it.

That the effort of the tug to drag the tow across the bows of the sloop athwart such a tide, on a track which must bring the canal-boat and sloop together, unless the tug let go her hold or otherwise protected the canal-boat, was a culpable mistake.

That, as to the ownership of the sloop, the claimant did not put that matter in issue by his answer, but only left it to be proved by the libelant. That proof may be made before the commissioner on the reference.

Decree for libelant with a reference to compute damages.

For libelant Messrs. Beebe, Dean & Donohue; for claimant Mr. Bliss.

FREIGHT AND DEMURRAGE.

Thomas O'Brien vs. 489 tons of Diamond Red Ash Coal.—This was a libel for freight and demurrage. The libelant was the master of the barge Island Belle. On Nov. 14, 1863, the coal was shipped on board the barge at Washington Colliery by A. C. Miller & Co., and the master signed three bills of lading, which specified that the barge was "bound for Fifth-street, East River, New-York," and by which the master agreed to deliver the coal "at the aforesaid port of New-York unto F. Wagner or his assigns, he or they paying freight, &c., &c."

The libelant alleged the performance of the contract on his part; that the coal was tendered to Wagner in New-York, but he refused to receive it, and thereby detained the vessel; and he claimed that the coal was liable for freight and demurrage.

Samuel Brunell claimed the coal in the cause. His answer excepted to the libel that it did not set up facts sufficient to warrant any decree against the coal for demurrage, and it alleged that the coal was shipped subject to a usual and customary right of the shipper to direct a different delivery from that stated in the bill of lading at any time before the vessel arrived in New-York, and that in accordance with that usage the shippers did direct this coal to be delivered to him at Cross' Dock, Brooklyn. It denied that the coal was delivered or tendered to be delivered as directed, and alleged that the coal was retained in the vessel undischarged.

Evidence on this question of usage was given on both sides. The libelant took his boat first to Cross' Dock, but without landing it there took it to Fifth-street, East River, and tendered it to Wagoner, the consignee named in the bill of lading, who refused to receive it. As to what took place at Cross' Dock the evidence differed.

Held by the Court—That there is no need of discussing the question of general usage, because the fair bearing of the evidence on the point whether the libelant wrongfully failed to discharge it at Cross' Dock, as the claimant alleges, very satisfactorily shows that all reasonable efforts were made promptly by the libelant to unload the coal at that spot, and that such delivery failed to be accomplished by the remissness and inattention of the assignee of the bill of lading alone.

That the bill of lading stands, therefore, the only evidence of the contract with the carrier; and the consignee having refused to receive the cargo or pay the freight, the libelant is entitled to recover the freight and damages for the detention of his vessel out of the cargo.

That the inefficacy alleged in the libel by exception is not shown to exist in the terms of the averments themselves, and, therefore, should have been pointed out by special demurrer. A general demurrer concedes the truth of the allegations in the pleading, and in this instance they are both broad and specific enough, if true, to constitute a valid cause of action.

Decree for the libelant for $519 75—the amount of the freight, and for demurrage of his vessel from the tender of the cargo to the consignee up to the commencement of the suit. A reference ordered to ascertain this amount.

For libelant, Mr. Donovan and Judge Whiting; for claimant, Mr. Lyons and Mr. Benedict.

FREIGHT AND DEMURRAGE—DELIVERY.

Matthew Leaning vs. William Standish.—This was a libel for freight and demurrage. The libelant was master of the barge Anthracite. The coal was shipped at Swatara Colliery, to be delivered at New-York, "unto Hiram Tocht or his assigns, he or they paying freight at $2 70 per ton, and demurrage at the rate of $10 per day for any detention over three days after notice of arrival has been given to the consignee." The libelant at New-Brunswick received instructions to deliver his coal to the respondent at the foot of Delancey-street. On the 18th of December the arrival of the vessel was reported, and on the 24th of December the libelant signed a receipt for "$25 of Hiram Tocht, on account of the freight." The vessel was not able to get to a berth for several days. The respondent's clerk testified that after the barge had arrived, he told the libelant the respondent would take the coal at the foot of Stanton-street, where there was a berth; but this the libelant denied. He finally got a berth at the foot of Delancey-street, and after that there was no delay in receiving the coal. The libelant claimed to recover the freight and demurrage for ten days. The respondent did not contest the freight, but denied his liability to pay demurrage.

Held by the Court—That the carrier fulfills his undertaking expressed in a bill of lading of the purport of this one by bringing the cargo to the appointed port, with notice to the consignee of that fact, and the readiness of the ship to deliver it at a convenient and proper place. The duty of the consignee is to designate the place of delivery, and to be ready to receive the cargo as it comes from the ship. Whether that shall be from her side in the stream, or landed on a quay, must be a matter depending upon the condition of the port in means and facilities of commercial accommodation, or arrangement between the parties.

That in this case the delivery was to be made at a dock acceptable to the consignee. That the evidence of the claimant on the question of his readiness to receive the coal at Stanton-street is the stronger; the libelant testifying for himself against the clerk.

That the respondent is entitled to a decree on the claim for demurrage.

For libelant, Mr. Donovan and Judge Whiting; for respondent, Mr. Lyons and Mr. Benedict.

Court Calendar—This Day.

TUESDAY, May 3—P. M.

The ease of supply in the Money Market to the Stock Exchange business, at call, has placed the rates of Interest at 6@7 ℘ cent. The demand from this quarter continues light since the breakdown in the Railway speculation week before last, but there are signs to-day of a better disposition to operate at the reduced figures for the New-York and Western Roads. The merchant demand for Money is on a fair scale, but paper going at 6 ℘ cent. for short sales, and 6@7 ℘ cent. on 4@6 months' bills.

The later Foreign news was construed this afternoon as less favorable for Exchange and Gold, and the latter advanced at the Second Board to 179½@179½ ℘ cent. Bills on London were at 110 ℘ cent. for Gold.

The demand for Government Stocks continued active to-day. The sales of the 5-20s were not quite so favorable in prices as yesterday. The sales of the new 10-40 Loan were, by the

Fourth National Bank	$300,000
Sixth National Bank	260,000
Treasury Office	62,000
Together	$622,000

No return from the First National Bank to the hour of writing this report. We note with pleasure the appearance of a more active business at the Fourth National, whose large capital should make it a most useful auxiliary to the Treasury, not only in the negotiation of the New Loan, but as one of its New-York Fiscal Agents.

On the opening of the Stock Exchange Board this morning there were renewed signs of depression and weakness on the Railway Shares, and Coal and other miscellaneous Stocks, at or rather below the last rates of Monday night. But the feeling changed somewhat as the call of the Railway list proceeded, and after the adjournment there was quite a steady demand for Erie and some of the Western lines.

At the Second Board there was a further improvement in demand and prices. On Hudson River, especially, there was a rise from the First Board of 5@5½ ℘ cent.; Reading, 3 ℘ cent.; Cumberland Coal, 4 ℘ cent., and 2@3 ℘ cent. on other descriptions. After the adjournment the advance was not in all cases by 1@2 ℘ cent. maintained, and at 4 o'clock the following prices were made as compared with the same hour on Monday, the market closing steady:

TALLOW—Sales since our last, 115,000 lbs., at 13⅝c.@14c. ℔ lb. Messrs. KNIGHT & SONS notice the week's business thus: "Since our last issue the market has fluctuated considerably. On Tuesday the demand was very active at 14½c. The amount of business done during the week has been large at prices varying from 14⅛c.@14¾c. and some very choice brought 14⅞c. We note some large lots being sold at the East at 14¼c. equal to 14⅞ here. The stock of Tallow is being greatly reduced in this City and the small arrivals tend to keep up the price. The inquiry for Soap Tallow is fair at 13½c. Tallow Oil is held at 13½c. To-day the market is quite dull, parties are asking 14c., but we hear of no sales. The demand for Soap Grease is active at our quotations, the stock is light. We have no sales of Butchers' Association to quote. The orders for export are at limits too low at present to fill, owing to the fall in foreign Exchange market. We quote the market firm. Price this day, 1858, 10¼c.; 1859, 10⅝c.; 1860, 10¼c.; 1861, 9c.; 1862, 9c.; 1863, 11⅛c. ℔ lb.

THE GOLD PEN—THE BEST OF ALL PENS,

MORTON'S GOLD PENS,

THE BEST PENS IN THE WORLD.

On receipt of any of the following sums in Cash, the subscriber will send by return mail, or otherwise, as directed, a Gold Pen or Pens—selecting the same according to description, viz.:

GOLD PENS WITHOUT CASES.

For 25 cents, the Magic Pen; for 38 cents, the Lucky Pen; for 50 cents, the Always-Ready Pen; for 75 cents, the Elegant Pen; and for $1, the Excelsoir Pen. These Pens are not numbered, but correspond in sizes to Numbers 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 respectively.

THE SAME PENS IN SILVER-PLATED EXTENSION CASES, WITH PENCILS.

For 50 cents, the Magic Pen; for 75 cents, the Lucky Pen; for $1, the Always-Ready Pen; for $1 25, the Elegant Pen, and for $1 50, the Excelsior Pen.

These are Well-Finished, Good-Writing Gold Pens, with Iridosmin Points, the average wear of every one of which will far outlast a gross of the best Steel Pens, although they are unwarranted, and, therefore, not exchangeable.

MORTON'S WARRANTED PENS.

The name "A. Morton," "Number" and "Quality," are stamped on the following Pens, and the points are warranted for six months, except against accident.

The numbers indicate size only; No. 1 being the smallest, No. 6 the largest, adapted for the pocket; No. 4 the smallest, and No. 10 the largest Mammoth Gold Pen, for the desk.

Long and medium Nibs of all sizes and qualities. Short Nibs of Numbers 4, 5, 6 and 7, and made only of first quality.

The Long and Short Nibs are fine pointed; the Medium Nibs are broad, coarse business points. The engravings are fac-similes of the sizes and styles.

For $2 50 a No. 4 Pen, 1st quality; or a No. 5 Pen, 2d quality; or a No. 6 Pen, 3d quality.
For $3 a No. 5 Pen, 1st quality; or a No. 6 Pen, 2d quality.
For $3 50 a No. 6 Pen, 1st quality.

For $4 a No. 8 Pen; for $5 a No. 9 Pen; and for $6 a No. 10 Pen.

The "1st Quality" are pointed with the very best Iridosmin Points, carefully selected, and none of this quality are sold with the slightest imperfection which skill and the closest scrutiny can detect.

The "2d Quality" are superior to any Pens made by him previous to the year 1860.

The "3d Quality" he intends shall equal in respect to Durability, Elasticity and Good Writing Qualities (the only true considerations) any Gold Pens made elsewhere.

In regard to the Cheap Gold Pens, he begs leave to say that, previous to operating his New and Patented Machines, he could not have made as Good Writing and Durable Pens for the price, had the Gold been furnished gratuitously.

Parties ordering must in all instances specify the "Name" or the "Number" and "Quality" of the Pens wanted, and be particular to describe the kind they prefer—whether stiff or limber, coarse or fine.

All remittances sent by mail in registered letters are at my risk; and to all who send twenty cents (charge of registering,) in addition to the price of goods ordered, will guarantee their safe delivery.

Parties sending Gold or Silver will be allowed the full premium on the day received.

TO CLUBS—A discount of 10 per cent. will be allowed on sums of $12, of 15 per cent. on $24, and of 20 per cent. on $40, if sent to one address at one time.

NEW SKIRT FOR 1864.

A NEW AND GREAT INVENTION IN HOOP SKIRTS.

THE DUPLEX ELLIPTIC (OR DOUBLE) STEEL SPRING.

J. I. & J. O. WEST, NO. 97 CHAMBERS-ST., NEW-YORK,

Are the owners of the patent and exclusive manufacturers of this,

J. W. BRADLEY'S

PATENTED DUPLEX ELLIPTIC STEEL SPRING SKIRTS.

This invention consists of Duplex (or two) Elliptic Steel Springs, ingeniously braided tightly and firmly together, edge to edge, making the toughest, most elastic, flexible and durable spring ever used, enabling the wearer, in consequence of its great elasticity and flexibleness, to place and fold the skirt when in use as easily and with the same convenience as a silk or muslin dress. It entirely obviates and silences the only objections to hoop skirts, viz.: the annoyance to the wearer as well as the public, especially in crowded assemblies, carriages, railroad cars, church pews, or in any crowded place from the difficulty of contracting them to occupying a small space. This entirely removes the difficulty, while giving the skirt the usual full and symmetrical form, and is the lightest and most stylish and graceful appearance for the street, opera, promenade or house dress. A lady having enjoyed the pleasure, comfort and great convenience of wearing the Duplex Elliptic Spring Skirt for a single day, will never afterward willingly dispense with the use of them. They are the best quality in every part, and by far the lightest, most durable, comfortable and economical skirt made. Merchants will be supplied as above, and ladies in most first-class retail stores in this City and throughout the different States.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

The latest news from the Army of the Potomac still represents everything as quiet, though the troops are in a favorable position, and in excellent spirits. The rain storm of Monday had softened the roads, but they would soon be dry again.

The flag-of-truce steamer New-York arrived at Annapolis Monday morning, from City Point, with 34 paroled officers and 364 men. Such was the condition of the latter that every man of them was admitted to the hospital. One hundred and fifty of them had to be carried from the boat on stretchers and cars. Their looks and words abundantly show that their miserable condition has been produced by starvation, and many are undoubtedly past the reach of medicine or nourishment.

A dispatch to the Chicago papers, dated at the mouth of the Red River, April 29, states that Gen. BANKS' army has fallen back to Alexandria without fighting. The gunboat fleet is at the same place, some above and some below the falls. The Red River is low and falling. The Ouachita and Tensas are filling from Lake Providence.

FROM EUROPE.

By the arrival of the steamship Scotia at this port yesterday, we have two days's later news from Europe, her advices being down to April 24. The Garibaldi excitement in England had culminated in an outburst of indignation from the common people, at what they allege to be an attempt on the part of the nobility to drive GARIBALDI from England because of political influences. The letter of our London correspondent sets forth very clearly the reasons why GARIBALDI'S presence in England just now should prove uncomfortable to the Government. Grave and dignified peers were out in cards to the effect that it was certainly the General's health which had so summarily shortened his visit, and Mr. GLADSTONE had announced in the House of Commons that the Government had no connection whatever with the cause of his sudden departure. GARIBALDI would sail for Caprera April 25, in the Duke of SUTHERLAND'S yacht. The Conference had not yet done anything, owing to the absence of some of the German representatives, and stood adjourned to the 20th. The French press had received the news of the American resolution on the Mexican question, in various degrees of temper. The Government organs first ignored it, but when compelled to allude to it, affected to treat it as of no moment. The Liberal organs, however, commented freely on it, and pointed to it as an ugly feature for the French Government to contemplate when it guarantees French protection for Mexico for six years. MAXIMILIAN had sailed from Rome, with the blessing of the Pope. There was nothing new in the situation in Denmark. The King of Prussia was visiting his army, and congratulating the troops that stormed the works of Duppel. Preparations were making for pushing into Jutland.

GENERAL NEWS.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors yesterday, an ordinance sent in by the Comptroller, authorizing him to issue bonds pursuant to recent laws, was adopted. The issue will consist of six per cent. twenty-year bonds, to be entitled, "Soldiers' Substitute Bounty Fund Bonds," $2,000,000; "Riot Damages Redemption Bonds," $1,000,000; and "Soldiers' Substitute and Relief Redemption Bonds," $946,700; all to redeem temporary bonds heretofore issued, and which are payable respectively on the 1st of June, 1st of August and 1st of September ensuing. The Comptroller also sent in a copy of the County Tax Law, with an ordinance making the appropriations as specified therein, which were referred to the Committee on Annual Taxes. The report of the Commissioners of Charities and Correction for the first quarter of 1864 was submitted. The number of persons received in the various institutions under their charge during that period was 14,221; during the quarter there were 5,350 cases of sickness, 783 persons died, and at the close of March 6, 36 persons remained in their charge. The compensation of the legal adviser of the board (the Corporation Counsel) was fixed at $2,000 for the year—the usual amount—but the sum is required to be named yearly. A resolution complimentary to Mr. BLUNT, for his services on the Recruiting Committee, was unanimously adopted. Mr. STEWART called attention to erroneous statements of current expenditures contained in a circular issued by the "Citizens' Association," and moved the appointment of a committee to report the expenditures on current account of each year for several past years. The motion was carried, and Messrs. STEWART and PURDY were appointed. Alderman LONG was appointed Commissioner of "McComb's Dam," or "Central Bridge," (over Harlem River,) vice JAMES C. WILLETT, deceased. Adjourned to next Tuesday, at 3 o'clock P. M.

Yesterday Mayor GUNTHER signed the New Court-house ordinance, authorizing a further issue building stock to the amount of $800,000, (making $2,000,000 in all for purchasing the ground of the City and constructing the building,) which is to run 20 years at 6 ℔ cent. interest. The ordinance was adopted by the Board of Supervisors on last Tuesday, in pursuance of an act passed by the Legislature April 19. The board, at the same meeting, referred to the Special Committee on County Court House the Mayor's message in regard to the prices of iron used in the construction of the building, with power to send for persons and papers and make an investigation of the matter. As this committee made the contract, and know all about it, they ought to be able to make an early report. The riot damages' indemnity fund is also increased by a special law, passed near the close of the legislative session, amending the former law by striking out the figure two and inserting nine, making the full amount authorized to be raised for this fund $1,900,000, instead of $1,200,000.

A meeting of prominent lady residents was held on Saturday last, in Washington, to form a "Non-importation Society." The constitution, as reported, contains this pledge, to be signed by all the members: "For three years, or the war, we pledge ourselves to purchase no article of apparel when American articles can possibly be substituted." Mrs. Senator LANE, Mrs. SPAULDING, of Ohio, and others, took a leading part in the proceedings.

Hon. HENRY G. STEBBINS, of the Committee of Ways and Means, is seriously ill of typhoid fever, in this City. His failure to vote upon the Tax Bill having been noticed, the unfortunate cause of his absence should also be observed.

The Live Stock markets are moderately supplied with beeves this week. They number 3,900 cattle, 134 cows, 1,206 calves, 10,917 sheep and 13,832 hogs. The market at Forty-fourth-street opened dull on Monday, beef cattle selling at ½c. @¾c. lower than quoted last week, though of a better quality. Butchers were slow to buy, but with the limited supply the stock was largely sold on that day. Extra steers sold at 17c., net weight; good cattle at 14c.@16c., and light, rough oxen at 13c.@14c.... Sheep were in larger supply than last week, with little variation in price. The very best wool sheep sold at 10½c. ℔ ℔.; good at 9½c.@10½c.; shorn at 6½c.@7½c.... Live hogs are lower. Sales not as quick as last week. Prime corn-fed selling at 8½c.@8¾c. ℔ ℔, live weight.

Business at the Produce Exchange, yesterday, opened tamely and heavily, but closed rather briskly. Groceries were quiet. Petroleum was more active and dearer. Cotton was in demand, and advancing. Freights were somewhat brisker. Another meeting of commercial brokers was held at the Produce Exchange, but after some informal explanations and discussion, was adjourned to half-past one o'clock this afternoon. The Produce Exchange Company are about to enlarge the accommodations given to the Commercial Association, by merging into one the several rooms under the main business floor, and opening direct communication between both floors, by means of the broad stairs, within the building. This enlargement, now in progress, has been urgently needed for some time past.

The Stock Market partially recovered from its previous dullness on the Share list yesterday. The Railways were 1@2½ per cent. better than on Monday night. The sales of the new Government Loan 10-40s. were $622,000. Gold advanced 2½ per cent. in the afternoon; attributed to the London Money news by the Scotia and to adverse rumors as to the early movement of the Army of the Potomac.

he Copperhead Vote in Congress on the Tax Bill.

There is nothing like a test vote to fix real positions. It is the easiest thing in the world for a politician to hide his real ground under false colors, until the rub of a test vote comes; then you are sure to "spot" him.

Some of the Anti-Administration party, like WOOD, LONG and HARRIS, have unequivocally declared themselves against the war, and boldly encountered all the odium incident to that open opposition. But the larger portion have professed that they were in favor of the war, and that they combatted the Administration only because it did not better uphold the war. They have resented every imputation that they were seeking to break down the Administration in order to break down the war, and yet have worked systematically against the Administration, side by side with those who proclaim their supreme object to be peace at any price. On no one point have these loyal souls been more exercised than upon the failure of the Administration to secure the credit of the country, without which the war could never be prosecuted to a successful issue. For the last year they have ceaselessly rung the changes over the impending bankruptcy of the Government—bankruptcy which was sure to result from the immense disproportion between the revenues of the Government and its war expenditures. The time at last came when they were called upon to do something to reduce this disproportion. There was no possible way of effecting this but by increasing the revenues. Even the Copperheads themselves don't venture to pretend that if the war is to be waged at all, its scale, either in men or material, should be reduced. A tax-bill, adapted to yield a very large increase of revenue to the treasury, was reported to the House. It was based upon the principle of sparing the necessaries of life as much as possible, and taxing the luxuries. It would have been impossible to frame a bill, better deserving of the support of those who care for the interests of the body of the people. No amendment was offered, or could be offered, to the bill, by the Anti-Administration party in the House, materially changing its principle or its scope. The most that this party attempted to do was to make petty war upon some of its little details; and these the supporters of the Administration, when any good reason was shown, cheerfully modified. And yet, when the vote came to be taken on the passage of the bill, but a mere handful of the party sustained it. Of the fifty-two members who voted for Cox as Speaker, ostensible war men, but seven voted for the Tax Bill, viz.: BALDWIN of Michigan, CRAVENS, ENGLISH of Connecticut, HOLMAN, ROBINSON, STEELE of New-Jersey, and WINFIELD; and of the twelve who voted for DAWSON, only two, BAILEY and MILLER. Of the entire sixty-four who oppose the Administration, and yet profess to be for the war, only nine, all told, sustained the measure, without which an effective continuance of the war is impossible.

These votes completely expose the hollowness of the war-professions of the Cox and Brooks section of the "Democracy." They are votes which could not possibly be given by men who were at heart for the war. To withhold means for the prosecution of the war, is to oppose it. If done with false professions of friendship for the war on the lips, the original crime takes on a form of meanness that forces every honorable man to despise as well as hate. We say unhesitatingly that the bold, square, unflinching opposition of FERNANDO WOOD and ALEXANDER LONG to this war, their unqualified declaration that it is wrong in principle and fruitless in purpose, is a thousand times more respectable than the simulated friendship for the war of this other set of Copperheads, under which every artifice is practised to clog and defeat the war. It is as much more respectable as an open enemy is more respectable than a stealthy assassin.

This crew would wince for very shame, if they were not too shameless to wince for anything. Incessantly have they attacked the Administration for attempting to support the war by paper and not by taxes. The Administration at last applies for taxes, and in the roundest measure too. But these gentry neither help the friends of the Government to pass the measure, nor do they undertake to frame a substitute measure of their own. They either vote against the bill, or dodge it. But do these men take the people to be fools? Do they imagine that it is not understood what this avoidance of providing these supplies means? Is your plowman who starves your horses in favor of your crop? Is your engineer who bars out all fuel in favor of your voyage? Just as much so as the men who withhold all revenues for the war are in favor of the war.

It is all a contemptible mockery, and the people know it. These votes against the revenue bills mean nothing but hostility to the war; and they will have to be met on that ground only when the new elections come. Of course, the motives of these men are intelligible enough. They know that the vast majority of the people are devoted to the war, and that they could have no chance of power unless they professed a similar devotion. Their study is to make this devotion plausible, and yet give it some form that shall not advantage the Administration. It is not a very difficult task, so long as they are not called upon for anything more than words, because words can very easily be moulded to any shape, and are quite as available for deception as for truth. So far as their rhetorical accomplishments go, a great many of these Copperhead politicians have been apt scholars of the French diplomatist who taught that "Words are given to conceal thoughts." But votes are not quite so flexible. They can't, like words, play about a subject at all, but are apt to strike straight up and down, right through its core. These test votes upon the means of supporting the war, are test votes upon the war itself. There is no possible escape from that. The Cox and Brooks faction may as well accept the fact now as ever, and assume their true peace colors. It is the rankest folly in the world for them to imagine that they can make anybody believe they are war men in the face of such votes as they are now giving. Let them go bodily over, bag and baggage, to the side of WOOD and LONG, to the front of DAVIS and LEE. The loyal millions are not afraid of all combined, so that they know where all stand.

Now for Household Economy.

The Railway inflation is arrested. The Mining bubble has been pricked. The gambling operations in Wall and William streets have been cut down to the ordinary business of the regular Stock Exchange Board. These ways to sudden fortune have been made harder and dearer than of late. Their lines are not so pleasant. Calmer counsels must return not only in this quarter, but to the Produce Exchange and to the Grocery and Dry Goods interests, in which, we are sorry to say, the spirit of inordinate speculation is (or has been for the last few months) as rife as in Stock circles. They are now met, so far as Foreign merchandise is concerned, with an increased Tariff, adding one-half to the previous rates of duty. They expect, of course, to mark up their goods accordingly. It will not be their fault if speculation is not kept up and advanced on this pretext. But it will be the fault of household consumers if they succeed. The speculators in Grain and Flour and Provisions, on the Produce Exchange and the leading markets of the West, who, under the pretext of an inflated currency, have forestalled in a large measure the regular export demand, besides inflating prices to home consumers, are met by the opening of the Canals and by reduced Money facilities for accomplishing these quick fortunes out of the prime necessities of life. They will doubtless persevere, because Gold keeps up. They may possibly succeed, but it will be the fault of household consumers if they do. In like manner the great Coal Corporations, who have recklessly advanced the price of labor upon themselves, because they could pay it by forcing up the price of coal upon the community, will no doubt persevere in their speculations, if only to keep good an extravagant market for their shares; but even here, household consumers may hold a salutary check, and the steam lines and steam ferries work on light stocks throughout the Summer and Fall months.

Does any one seriously doubt that household economy can work reform and reduction in prices? Look to the recent defeat of the butter speculation; to the upsetting of the ten cents stage fares; to the hesitation in the cattle markets; to the prevalent use of cheaper meats and less of them; and to the movement just initiated by the ladies connected with the Metropolitan Fair, for discouraging the extravagant use of foreign silks, laces, &c. These are all encouraging, if not indubitable proofs of what has been and may be done. Our present purpose is to suggest and earnestly urge that they be immediately extended to what is called staple foreign merchandise. The occasion of the new tariff is not only appropriate but the circumstances of the import trade make it urgent that no more sugars, teas, coffees, fruits, spices, &c., be used or purchased in advance, than will reasonably serve the current wants of every family, whether rich or poor or in moderate circumstances. The rich should set the example; the other classes, already pressed in many cases by necessity, will not be slow to follow it.

The circumstances of the import trade referred to, are that vast quantities of these goods have been hastened to this market to anticipate the new tariff. Fourteen millions in gold value, exclusive of duty, have been entered in the last fortnight. Half as much more has been suddenly withdrawn from bond of the previous importation, and all thrown on the market at the old rates of duty, with the calculation that consumers can be made to pay an advance equal to the change in the new rates, which must be borne by the succeeding importations—tens of millions of which are already afloat or in preparation for shipment from Europe and the Indies. The importers or consignees of the latter expect, of course, to add the additional duty upon the consumers, and still keep good to themselves old prices and old profits. Such calculations ought to be defeated, in the present state of the country, and will be, if our people moved by a common impulse, only pull together for earnest household economy.

GRANT'S PLANS.—Now that the public are so completely in the dark as to the military programme to be carried out in Virginia—now that they are not only ignorant as to plans, but even as to actual movements, so that it is impossible for them to get up their own plans, or even to speculate intelligently, we look with interest to the rebel journals for news of our army movements and for speculations as to the significance of these movements and what they may portend. A correspondent of the Richmond Enquirer, from LEE'S lines a few days ago, speculates as follows:

> "The commonly received opinion that GRANT will attack Gen. LEE in front and in his fortifications is erroneous. He will seek to turn the flank of our army, and his policy is, evidently, to retain his present position until his organization and equipment be thoroughly accomplished, and then, by suddenly unfolding his strategy, to surprise Gen. LEE. He may march rapidly and without announcement either to some point of crossing the Rapidan or Rappahanock, or to Port Republic, thence to Staunton, thence to Lynchburgh. I think an attempt to flank on the East the more probable; his army crossing at some of the lower fords of the Rappahannock. This, however, is all conjecture, and but the echo of Washington gossip.
> There is yet no indication of any move in the direction of Fredericksburgh, unless the fact that the telegraph road from Occoquan to Alexandria being repaired by the Yankees may be so regarded."

This rebel writer further announces that GRANT'S army will be ready to advance in ten days from the time of his writing, which would make the day of movement Saturday next. But the rebels know very little, after all.

AMUSEMENTS.

WINTER GARDEN.—Mr. EDWIN BOOTH commenced a short season of performances here last night. The house was, of course, crowded. It is gratifying to know that it is always so when this fine artist performs. The seats were all filled, and filled with that peculiarly calm, contemplative, intellectual audience that Mr. BOOTH invariably summons to his assistance when he delineates a Shakespearean character—an audience which we may here add is totally different to any congregation of inanities that a sensation play can or ever will command. The play was "Hamlet," in which Mr. BOOTH is without an equal. It is impossible to witness his fine impersonation of the Prince without perceiving at once how thoroughly the nature as well as the intellect of Mr. BOOTH has yielded to and absorbed the conspicuous manifestations and reticent meanings of this most difficult rôle. There is no impassable gulf between the settled melancholy of the first act and the unsettled tribulation of the last. They both exhibit a mental condition, acute and sensitive, yet kindly and easily overwhelmed. We know of no actor who presents this temperament with so tender a fidelity, and, in fact, have never seen it preserved intact except by Mr. BOOTH. It is clearly revealed in his grand scene with the ghost, and remains in a shattered and increasingly pathetic form to the end. The fault with most artists is that they elaborate certain conspicuous portions of their parts, and ascend so many mountains of rhetoric that they have naturally to descend to swampy flats of common-place, and so become either exhaustive or dreary. Mr. BOOTH avoids these extremes, and treads the steady elevations of poetry with the conscious calmness of the mountain guide, who sees all that is sublime, yet knows how to avoid that which is fatal.

The minor parts were, with an exception, well sustained by the members of the company, which we are glad to see has been materially strengthened for the occasion. To-night Mr. BOOTH appears in his great part of Richelieu, in the play of that name.

BROADWAY THEATRE.—Mr. SIMMONS, a distinguished magician from the other side, made his first appearance here on Monday night, and inaugurated—at all events—a new season of cleanliness in a house which, since Mr. WALLACK'S time, has been execrable in this respect. The matter of Mr. SIMMONS'S entertainment is better than the manner in which the gentleman presents it. He is undoubtedly an executive artist of high rank, but he lacks the facility that many others possess, of easily and glibly hiding the art exhibited. Hence it happens, that Mr. SIMMONS'S "talk" is sometimes strained and not always elegant, and is evidently talk for a purpose. Beyond this it must be admitted that he performs some of the most wondrous feats that have ever been attempted, and with a degree of success that places him at once in the formost rank of magicians. He was warmly applauded on the opening night, but the audience that paid him this compliment was rather unruly. A number of boys seemed to have been emancipated for the moment from the wholesome discipline of the rattan which restrains them in the theatres on the eastern side of the City, and gave unbridled license to their tongues, and ruled uninterruptedly the plauditory part of the evening. Mr. SIMMONS will give his entertainment every night until further notice. The theatre presents an extremely cheerful look, and has evidently been redecorated at great expence.

THE HIPPOTHEATRON.—SPALDING & ROGERS' great Ocean Circus company terminated a week of brilliant business at this establishment on Saturday evening. This week there is an entire change of programme, several new artists appearing. The admirers of hippodramatic and gymnastic art are promised many new feats of thrilling interest, a new equestrian spectacle, introducing the entire company, and the advent of the celebrated equestrienne, Mme. CAROLINE, and her highly educated ménege horse Gen. Scott, whilst those great rivals of the HANLONS, the ROLLANDE BROTHERS, announce their intention of executing some still more daring feats on the aerial trapeze.

ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

All Quiet—Everything Ready—Troops in Fine Spirits—Deserters from the Enemy.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 3.

Mr. E. A. PAUL sends the following to this bureau:

All is quiet with the Army of the Potomac to-day; everything is in readiness, however, for a movement at the proper moment. Our troops are in excellent spirits, and anxious to advance against the enemy under their new Commander-in-Chief. Gen. BURNSIDE'S command is in a favorable position. The Fourteenth New-York Battery had a slight skirmish yesterday while going to the front. The men employed in the construction department, and all other supernumerary help, is being sent to the rear as fast as possible.

Deserters from the enemy's ranks cross the Rapidan daily. All agree that LEE is making extensive preparations to meet Gen. GRANT there. People also profess to believe that Richmond is being evacuated

SOUTHERN NEWS.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 3.

The Richmond Examiner of the 29th ult. says:

"If we hold our own in Virginia until Summer is ended, the North's power of mischief everywhere will be gone. If we lose, the South's capacity for resistance will be broken. The Confederacy has ample power to keep its place in Virginia if its means are employed—energy and consistency, and this is the last year of the war, whichever wins."

The Inquirer of the 30th says: "A company has been organized with a capital of $10,000,000, of which $1,500,000 have been paid in. It declines disclosing the condition of the enterprise, but says the company aspires to grand results. It will have a fleet at least, and there is now every prospect of success."

LONG'S speech is published in the Raleigh Conservative, and is spoken of as bold and manly, and as one of the most remarkable speeches that has been delivered in Yankeedom.

From the Atlanta (Ga.) Daily Intelligencer, of April 22, we extract the following telegraphic dispatches:

YANKEE DESERTERS RETURNING NORTH.

From the Richmond Enquirer of April 28.

Twenty-one Yankee deserters who have been loafing about on parole, finding the police kept too vigilant an eye on them, and taking warning by the example made of several of their kind for their favorite amusement, garroting, have returned to headquarters, and been transferred to Libby Prison, to be exchanged, at their own request, as prisoners of war. On yesterday, twenty-two were booked for Salisbury, with the option of remaining and being sent to the Libby Prison for exchange. Seven of the number (who are included in the above twenty-two) chose the alternative, and were transferred.

REMOVAL OF THE CABINET OFFICES.

From the Richmond Enquirer, April 28.

The removal of several branches of the Cabinet departments to the South produces numerous vacancies in the battalion composed of clerks and other employes of the Government.

THE WAR IN THE SOUTHWEST.

DALTON, Friday, April 29.

A large force of the enemy, consisting of infantry, artillery and cavalry, attacked the pickets on the Ringgold road this morning, capturing ten and wounding several. The pickets retreated nearly to Tunnel Hill, when they were met by reinforcements, and turned upon the Yankees, and, after a short engagement, drove the enemy back. The loss on either side is small, and the affair is regarded simply as a reconnoissance to discover our position. The enemy was also reported moving out slowly from Cleaveland, yesterday, in the direction of Clay.

DALTON, Wednesday, April 17.

BROWNLOW'S Yankee Cavalry, 500 strong, dashed into Spring Place this morning, but, beyond the capture of one citizen, effected nothing. This was nothing more than a reconnoissance of a route by which the enemy will advance.

FROM TRANS-MISSISSIPPI.

MOBILE, Thursday, April 28.

A special dispatch to the Tribune, dated Senotobia, April 27, says that correspondents who have seen the officers at Vicksburgh, state that several engagements in Louisiana resulted in a complete Federal defeat; the federal General SMITH saved BANKS' army from destruction, and that the subordinate officers are very indignant against BANKS.

A great conspiracy has been discovered in the Western States, and Crawford County, Ohio, has been placed under martial law.

THE RESPONSE FROM THE NORTH-WEST.

The One Hundred Days' Men of Ohio.

CINCINNATI, Tuesday, May 3.

The National Guards of Ohio mustered yesterday in response to the Governor's call for one hundred days' men. Out of 486 companies, all but 43 have reported, giving 35,000 men for active duty. The whole number will reach nearly 40,000 men, ready at a moment's notice, for the field. The four regiments of this city turned out nearly 3,000 men, fully armed and equipped.

Released Union Prisoners—Their Sad Condition.

BALTIMORE, Tuesday, May 3.

The American's special Annapolis letter says:

"The flag-of-truce steamer New-York arrived at the Naval Academy wharf yesterday morning, from City Point, with 34 paroled officers and 364 men. Such was the condition of the latter that every man of them were admitted to the hospital. One hundred and fifty of them had to be carried from the boats on stretchers and cars. Their looks and words abundantly show that their miserable condition has been produced by starvation, and many are undoubtedly past the reach of medicine or nourishment. Among the officers is Col. ROSE, of the Seventy-seventh Pennsylvania Regiment, who was the chief-engineer of the tunnel by which so many of our officers escaped in February last, he having been recaptured.

From Fortress Monroe.

FORTRESS MONROE, Tuesday, May 3.

The steamer O. L. Clarke, from Port Royal, has arrived. She reports: On the 1st inst., off Fryingpan Shoals, spoke gunboat Vicksburgh, cruising for blockade runners. The Vicksburgh reported as follows: Captured on the 30th ult. the schooner India, loaded with palm-oil and segars, evidently for Wilmington; also, chased a side-wheel steamer on the same day, but lost her that night.

The propeller Armitage Brailey was driven on to the wreck of the gunboat Whitehall, in Hampton Bay, during the gale last night, and filled with water.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE N. Y. TIMES.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 3.

DISTRIBUTION OF PRIZE MONEY.

The Fourth Auditor's Office distributed $506,100 of prize money and settled 3,299 prize claims during the month of April.

THE TREASURY INVESTIGATION.

Col. BAKER, secret agent of the War Department, was summoned before the Treasury Investigating Committee to-day, to testify in regard to the transactions of CLARK in the Currency Printing Bureau. Charges against CLARK have reference more to immoral and indecent practices on his part, rather than to dereliction in office, although rumors of an over-issue in fractional currency are afloat.

THE BLAIR CONTROVERSY.

A number of Senators met in caucus to-day, to agree upon a united course in regard to the restoration of FRANK BLAIR to his command in the army. They decided to support a resolution refusing to recognize Gen. BLAIR as Major-General in the military service, and to recommend his dismissal from said service, on the ground that he holds his commission in violation of law.

THE QUORUM OF THE SENATE.

The present rule of the Senate, requiring a quorum to consist of a majority of all the Senators from all the States, was altered to-day so that a majority of Senators from States represented may constitute a quorum.

THE TARIFF BILL.

As soon as the Appropriation Bills are disposed of, the Ways and Means Committee will take up the Tariff Bill, which will be about Thursday next.

THE OVERLAND MAIL SERVICE.

There is a disposition on the part of the House Post-office Committee to cut down very materially the price for carrying the overland California mail as fixed by the Senate. The House will probably adhere to the old schedule prices.

THE RED RIVER CAMPAIGN.

Gen. BANKS, in official dispatches to the War Department relative to the Red River campaign, admits a surprise and reverse on the 8th of April, but claims that the battles on the 9th and 10th resulted in a terrible disaster to the rebels, and was, on the whole, a victory to our arms; the cost to the rebels in killed and wounded being greater proportionately than was ever suffered in any battle during the war.

RECEIPTS OF INTERNAL REVENUE.

The Receipts of Internal Revenue during the month of April were upward of ten millions.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 3.

THE TEN-FORTY LOAN.

The subscriptions to the Ten-Forty Loan to-day amounted to $1,163,000.

QUOTA OF THE DISTRICT.

The District of Columbia only requires twenty-two more men to complete all calls under the draft.

COLLISIONS.

The bill which has just become a law, fixing the rules and regulations for preventing collisions on the water, will go into effect on the first of September. It is applicable both to the navy and mercantile marine. The same features have been adopted by England and France, and perhaps by other nations, and have thus become international. A new principle has been adopted by a recent law, namely, authorizing the Postmaster-General to refund to postmasters the sums of which they may have been robbed by Confederate forces or rebel guerrillas.

ADJOURNED.

The United States Court of Claims has adjourned till October, having disposed of all the cases ready for trial.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 3.

THE ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL.

Mr. FESSENDEN, of Maine, (Union,) reported from the Finance Committee the Army Appropriation Bill, as amended by the House, and asked that the Senate non-concur and request a committee of conference. Adopted.

SALE OF COAL LANDS IN THE PUBLIC DOMAIN.

Mr. HARLAN, of Iowa, (Union,) reported from the Committee on Public Lands the bill for the disposal of coal lands and of town property in public domains, which provides for the survey and sale of coal land, at auction, at the minimum price of twenty dollars per acre; and for the survey of plots for sites in town in lots of not more than four thousand two hundred feet, at the minimum price of ten dollars per lot.

THE QUORUM OF THE SENATE.

Mr. SHERMAN, of Ohio, (Union,) called up the following resolution: That a quorum of the Senate shall hereafter consist of a majority of the Senators present duly qualified.

Mr. SHERMAN said the House had decided that a majority of those chosen constituted a quorum, and we should pass a similar rule. It was never intended that this Government should be broken up either by open secession or for want of a quorum. We had yesterday an example of the evil effect of the present rule, when at 5 o'clock, just as an important bill was about to pass, the Senate found itself without a quorum.

Mr. FOSTER, of Connecticut, (Union,) opposed the resolution, as there would be more difficulty in finding a quorum then than now. The more the responsibility was divided the less it was felt.

Mr. DAVIS, of Kentucky, (Union,) considered this the most important subject ever presented to the Senate, and he hoped, in order to allow it to be fully discussed, that it would be made the special order for to-morrow at 12¼ o'clock.

THE PUBLIC PRINTING.

Mr. ANTHONY, of Rhode Island, introduced a bill to expedite and regulate the printing of public documents, which was referred to the Committee on Printing. It requires the accompanying documents of the department reports to go to the Joint Committee on Printing, be edited and portions selected desirable for popular distribution, and issued with the reports and President's Message in one volume. It also provides for the sale of extra documents at cost.

LAND SALES IN WISCONSIN.

The joint resolution to pay the State of Wisconsin five per cent. of the land sales within her borders came up. Mr. FESSENDEN addressed the Senate in opposition thereto until the close of the morning hour.

THE PAY OF THE HUNDRED DAY TROOPS.

The Senate then resumed the consideration of the bill appropriating twenty-five millions of dollars for the pay of the one hundred day volunteers.

Mr. HALE, in deference to the feelings of his friend, the Chairman of the Committee on Finance, and of Military Affairs, who, with him, seem to consider the measure unwise and yet necessary in the present emergency, would waive his objections and perhaps vote for the bill. The bill was then passed.

YEAS—Messrs. Anthony, Clark, Collamer, Conness, Doolittle, Fessenden, Foot, Foster, Grimes, Hale, Harlan, Howard, Howe, Lane of Indiana, Lane of Kansas, Morgan, Morrill, Ramsey, Sherman, Sumner, Van Winkle, Willey, Wilson—23.

NAYS—Messrs. Buckalew, Carlile, Chandler, Davis, Harding, Henderson, Johnson, Nesmith, Pomeroy, Powell, Riddle, Sprague, Wade, Wilkinson—14.

A BUREAU OF MILITARY JUSTICE.

Mr. WILSON, of Massachusetts, (Union,) called up the report of the Committee of Conference on the bill to create a Bureau of Military Justice, and moved its adoption, proposing, as it does, that the Senate recede from its amendments limiting the pay of the Judge-Advocate-General to $4,000 per annum, with the rank of Brigadier-General, and the pay of two Assistant Judge-Advocates to $3,000 per annum, with the rank of Colonel.

After some debate, the question was taken on the motion to agree, and resulted ayes 18, noes 16, or within two of a quorum.

After some delay in fruitless efforts to get a quorum,

Mr. GRIMES moved to adjourn. Rejected—ayes 10, noes 23.

Mr. DOOLITTLE moved that the Sergeant-at-Arms be directed to request the attendance of Senators.

Mr. COLLAMER objected. It had never been the custom, and there was no use to send out to bring in absent Senators while those here were in the meantime leaving.

Some Senator suggested that the doors be locked.

Mr. SHERMAN, at 2¼ o'clock, moved to adjourn, which was carried, Ayes 17, Nays 15. Adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, May 3.

PAY OF SOLDIERS.

Mr. SCHENCK, of Ohio, (Union,) from the Committee on Military Affairs, reported a bill providing that on and after the 1st of May next the pay of privates in arms shall be increased from $13 to $16 a month, and of non-commissioned officers as follows: Corporals, $18; Sergeants, $20; Orderly Sergeants, $24; Sergeant-Majors, $26 per month; Clerks to Paymasters, $1,200 per annum, etc.

Mr. SCHENCK moved the previous question, and was about to explain the bill, when

Mr. COX, of Ohio, (Dem.,) asked his colleague to withdraw the demand, so as to allow him to amend the bill, by increasing the pay of private soldiers to $18 per month, and of non-commissioned officers to $20. Even this would hardly be enough to keep pace with the increase in price of the necessaries of life for the families of the soldiers. His (COX'S) friends on his side of the House offered this in good faith.

Mr. SCHENCK, of Ohio, declined to comply, having been instructed by his Committee to urge the present bill.

Mr. DAWSON, of Pennsylvania, appealed to Mr. SCHENCK—he was Chairman of the Democratic Caucus and desired to offer that which that caucus had agreed to offer for the soldiers.

Mr. SCHENCK replied if the Democratic Caucus were more numerous than the Union Caucus, they could vote down the motion for the previous question.

Mr. SCHENCK proceeded to explain the bill. Both the Senate and House having acted upon the proposition to equalize the pay of white and colored soldiers, the Committee on Military Affairs had principally confined themselves to the increasing of pay. In the course of his remarks he said it was proposed to amend a former law, so that officers may have leave of absence for causes other than sickness or wounds, without deduction of pay and allowance, and that the absence shall not exceed thirty days in any one year. The ration of 1861 is restored, making a reduction of $1 39 a month. This took away nothing essential to the soldiers' comfort and subsistance, and gave him supplies equal to any soldier in the world, and twice as much as those of JEFF. DAVIS. In the aggregate the Government will save considerable, while the soldier is paid five or six times as much in cash as the deduction in the increase of his pay.

The bill was passed unanimously, there being 135 yeas.

NAVY APPROPRIATIONS.

Mr. STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, (Union,) reported from the Committee of Ways and Means the Senate amendments to the Navy Appropriation Bill, and the House concurred in those appropriating $7,200,000 for the completion of sixteen screw steam sloops, $4,000,000 for the purchase and repair of vessels for the Western waters, and $3,000,000 for the purchase and charter of vessels for blockading purposes. The Senate struck out the appropriation of $135,000 for the purchase of land adjoining the Charlestown Navy-yard, and on the amendment, the Committee on Ways and Means recommended a non-concurrence.

Mr. HOLMAN, of Indiana, (Dem.,) moved a reduction of the appropriation to sixty thousand dollars, showing that this was the value of the property last Autumn.

Mr. STEVENS explained the circumstances under which this subject came before the Committee on Ways and Means. The appropriation was recommended by all the Commandants who had been at the yard, by Admiral SMITH, of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, and by Secretary WELLES, who all consider the purchase of this property necessary for Government purposes.

Mr. RICE, of Massachusetts, (Union,) showed that the enlargement of the Charlestown Navy-yard had become necessary by the large increase of the navy.

The debate was continued, those who opposed the appropriation regarding it as a speculation.

The House concurred in the Senate's amendment by a vote of 56 to 38.

The House then concurred in the Senate's amendment providing that no money appropriated for the Naval Academy shall be applied for the support of any midshipman who shall not hereafter be appointed in strict conformity with law.

The House next considered the Senate's amendment providing that the Naval Academy shall be returned and reëstablished at Annapolis before the commencement of the next academic year.

The amendment was concurred in.

Mr. DIXON, of Rhode Island, (Union,) said that on the breaking out of the rebellion, the Academy was removed to Newport by the Secretary of the Navy. The same authority which removed it can restore it. The Academic year will commence in September, 1865, and if an occasion should occur for its removal before that time, it would doubtless be done. Besides, the Naval Academy property at Annapolis was occupied by the War Department, which had declined to surrender it.

Mr. STEVENS, of Pennsylvania, (Union,) said that Newport was a large and fashionable place, and with all its vices was no fit place for a young man. It is always better to have seminaries of learning in small villages, where there are but few temptations to vice. Annapolis is a small village, and just about the right size. By returning to Annapolis, the Government will save seventy-five or a hundred thousand dollars a year.

THE RECONSTRUCTION BILL.

The House resumed the consideration of the bill guaranteeing a republican form of government to the States subverted or overthrown by the rebellion.

Mr. PERHAM, of Maine, (Union,) prefaced his remarks by saying that all our efforts should be directed to the suppression of the rebellion. He (PERHAM) repelled the slander that this is an abolition war, and that it was a hellish crusade. Instead of the party in power being responsible for the war, it was that party which had the control of the Government for sixty years. The Democratic party had clothed themselves with everlasting disgrace by conniving with President BUCHANAN'S declaration and acting upon it, that no power to coerce States has been delegated to Congress or to any department of the Federal Government. There never was a more disgraceful record than that made by the leaders of the Democratic party during the last few years. The rebellion was inaugurated under a Democratic Administration, with its patronage and consent, stimulated and encouraged by the promise of the aid of Northern Democrats, and now kept alive in the hope that the same party will come to its assistance. The course of the Democrats here was doing more for the rebellion than our defeats on the battle-field. While the Democrats hold President LINCOLN to a strict account and charge him with violations of the Constitution, they have no complaints to utter against the rebels who set the Constitution at defiance. They want to render him powerless to punish traitors. In conclusion Mr. PERHAM said that Slavery must cease with the last struggle of the rebellion.

Mr. KERNAN, of New-York, (Dem.,) examined the provisions of the bill under consideration, and opposed it because, according to his judgment, it was in violation and subversive of the great fundamental principles on which the General and State Governments stand. The people could, according to the bill, enjoy civil and domestic institutions on the three conditions named, thus trampling under foot all the power of the States. The Federal Government has no right to interfere with the people in changing their Constitutions and making their laws. We can do nothing more than to guarantee a republican form of overnment, in accordance with the Constitution. He believed that the effect of the bill would be to crush out the loyal men in those States, and stimulate them to resistance. It was an invasion of the powers of the people of a State, which are inherent, and of which they cannot be lawfully deprived. Gentlemen should not, while seeking to preserve the Government, be influenced by feeling and prejudice. They should be guided by reason and justice. The question is not, how much the South have sinned, but what is wise and best for a happy and peaceful Union for both the North and the South, for history tells us that if we disregard the Constitution, which is the great bond which holds the Union together, we will not only trample upon the rights of the States, but destroy our own liberties. We will not save and restore the people of the land under one Government by trampling on the guarantees of the Constitution. Drive out the usurpers then, and the people will take care of their own States.

CORRECTION.

The name of SAMUEL J. RANDALL, of Pennsylvania, (Dem.,) was erroneously printed in favor instead of of against the bill equalizing the pay of colored troops and placing them on the same footing with white soldiers.

Mr. LEONARD MEYERS, of Pennsylvania, obtained leave to record his vote in favor of the same measure.

The House then took a recess til 7 P. M.

EVENING SESSION.

THE RECONSTRUCTION BILL.

The bill guaranteeing a republican government to rebellious States being under consideration,

Mr. GOOCH, of Massachusetts, (Union,) said for years the argument was between Freedom and Slavery. The latter, being defeated, appealed to arms, and hence the bloody conflict. He believed that there was sufficient power to crush the rebellion in the very bud. Had JAMES BUCHANAN been in the Presidential Chair in the place of JACKSON, JOHN C. CALHOUN, instead of being an extinguished nullifier, would have been President of a so-called Confederacy, and if JACKSON had been in the place of BUCHANAN, JEFFERSON DAVIS would have been an extinguished Secessionist, instead of President of the Southern Confederacy. To save the Government it was necessary to destroy Slavery, and we must provide in the fundamental law, as proposed by the bill under consideration, that involuntary servitude shall be forever prohibited and the freedom of all persons guaranteed. He did not believe that the rebels had ceased to be subject to the Government or that they were out of the Union. But no matter what laws might be passed by Congress, and acts done by the Executive respecting the States revolted or subverted by treason, the recognition of a reorganized Government by both the Senate and House, and other departments, became necessary before they could be restored to their rights in the Union.

Mr. PERRY, of Ohio, (Dem.,) said that not one less victory would have been won by our army if the President had not issued his proclamation, and if Congress had been dumb. Presidential proclamations and Congressional action had been clogs to victory. Our army had achieved successes in spite of them. As the Administration spurned the advice of Gen. MCCLELLAN, he had not a hope that his own counsels could arrest the acts of those in power. Having rejected that General's military plans, so they did his civil policy, which went hand in hand with it. But there was a higher authority to which he would appeal. The people, who were quick to detect imbecility and corruption, would listen to counsel. Though they might be misled for a time, the deception could not long continue. They would render justice to all, and to him whose splendid military services had been treated with base ingratitude, ignominy and disgrace. He condemned the acts of the President and Administration generally.

Mr. FERNANDO WOOD, of New-York, (Dem.,) said he had carefully examined the bill and the speech of the Chairman of the Select Committee (Mr. DAVIS, of Maryland,) to ascertain on what facts he predicated the assertion that the State governments had been overthrown. The gentleman had declared that there could be no republican State government which did not recognize Congress and the President, and that the governments here represented were the only governments existing. This was but an assumption and the theme of folly. The Confederate Constitution, in all its elements of republicanism, was an improvement on our own, because it more clearly defined the powers of the States. The people of the Southern States enjoyed more liberty to-day than we had for the last three years. North Carolina was openly opposing the Confederate Executive. What Northern State would dare to follow the example in respect to our own? Doubtless despotism existed at the South, as military authority was always repugnant to liberty. To impose on any people a government against their will would be the worst form of government. He further controverted the doctrine enunciated by the gentleman from Maryland, contending that whatever might be the condition of the country, the States remained. He proceeded to notice Mr. SCHENCK'S former remarks, who had charged that he had recommended the secession of New-York. To this he replied that he did, on the 1st of January, 1861, in advance of the secession of any State, in a special message to the Common Council of New-York City, recommend that if the repeated wrongs and outrages of the State Legislature should be repealed on that City, that it should become a free City—not, however, independent of the Federal Government. Another charge was that he had made a speech at the great Union meeting, in April, 1861, and there declared himself to be a War Democrat; and the gentleman had added that he stood by his (WOOD'S) side on the platform, and had said: "You may call it an honor or dishonor, if you will." His (WOOD'S) participation in that meeting, however, was confined to an advocacy of raising money and troops to defend the Capital. He went no further than this. Of course, he was for maintaining the Union intact. He was so now; whilst the member from Ohio and his co-laborers in the cause of forcible negro emancipation were avowed Disunionists. If, said Mr. WOOD, that gentleman stood by my side, he spoke at the side of one who never fled ingloriously from the field of battle or ignominiously from the enemy. He stood by a man who never vilified or traduced the sainted JACKSON, and never eulogized the Jeffreys who fined JACKSON for interfering between patriots and traitors. He stood by a man who never, clothed with a little brief military authority, performed the acts of a despot, and interfered with the rights of two sovereign States. As to Gen. SCHENCK'S resignation of his commission, he (WOOD) pledged himself that if he could not prove, were an opportunity afforded, that there was a verbal understanding with the Secretary of War that he (SCHENCK) could resume his commission at pleasure, he (WOOD) would resign his seat. He then replied to the other charges of Mr. SCHENCK, and especially that implicating him with the New-York riots. The party in power, he said, had raised armies under false pretences, and had committed the grossest outrages against the Union and constitutional liberty ever perpetrated by despotism.

Mr. KELLY, of Pennsylvania, (Union,) after making an allusion to Mr. WOOD, said that ROBERT TOOMBS in telegraphing to the Mayor of New-York spoke of arms and not merchandise. This is a record which stands against the gentleman's assertion. The gentleman left New-York with riot and sedition boding, that the friends might do their work. He then advocated the bill, although it was not exactly what he desired. The people of the South have not only abolished State Governments, but have established others, and we know the seat of the Confederacy is at Richmond. As to the territory it belongs to the Union for all time, and if he could he would drive the traitors to the Gulf beyond. He would do this with joy. The Supreme Court of the United States has declared that these revolting States have the same rights only as alien enemies invading the land, and that they are not only traitors, but public enemies. These States are overthrown, and it is the duty of Congress to provide Governments for them when conquest is made, and it is our duty to make conquest by all means known to modern warfare, and within the limits of the nation.

The House at a quarter to eleven adjourned.

THE CASE OF ADMIRAL WILKES.

He is Sentenced to be Reprimanded and Suspended for Three Years.

NAVY DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON,
Tuesday, May 3, 1864.

GENERAL ORDER NO. 32.—At the Naval General Court-Martial, recently convened in the city of Washington, Commodore CHARLES WILKES, of the Navy, was tried upon the following charges preferred against him by the department:

CHARGE 1.—Disobedience of the lawful orders of his superior officer while in the execution of his office.

CHARGE 2.—Insubordinate conduct and negligence or carelessness in obeying orders.

CHARGE 3.—Disrespect and disrespectful language to his superior officer whilst in the execution of his office.

CHARGE 4.—Refusal of obedience to the lawful General Order issued by the Secretary of the Navy.

CHARGE 5.—Conduct unbecoming an officer and constituted an offence made punishable by article eight of the articles adopted and put in force for the government of the Navy of the United States.

Of each of these charges the accused was found by the court "guilty," and was sentenced in the following terms:

"And the court does hereby sentence the accused, Commodore CHARLES WILKES, to be publicly reprimanded by the Secretary of the Navy, and to be suspended from duty for the term of three years."

The finding of the court in this case is approved, and the sentence confirmed.

In carrying into execution that part of the sentence which requires Commodore WILKES to be publicly reprimanded, I need hardly say more to an officer of his age and experience, than that the promulgation of such charges and of the decision upon them by a court composed of officers of the highest rank in the navy, constitutes in itself a reprimand sufficiently poignant and severe to any one who may have desired to preserve an untarnished record in the service.

The department would gladly have been spared the unpleasant duty which has devolved upon it in this case, but the appeal made to the public by the accused, in a paper which the court has pronounced to be "of an insubordinate and disrespectful character, containing remarks and statements not warranted by facts," rendered it necessary for the department either to tolerate the disrespect and submit to unfounded aspersions, or refer the case to the investigation and decision of a court-martial.

GIDEON WELLES, Secretary of the Navy.

QUANTRELL'S MOVEMENTS.

Col. Phillips Gives Notice of His Advance.

Special Dispatch to the Missouri Democrat.

LEAVENWORTH, Wednesday, April 27.

The following telegram has just been received at Fort Leavenworth:

INDIAN BRIGADE, FORT GIBSON, Saturday, April 23.

To Major-Gen. Samuel R. Curtis, Commanding Department of Kansas:

I have already sent you two telegrams from Fort Smith that QUANTRELL was going to Kansas. He had gone up on Grand River by night marches.

I sent several columns in pursuit—I had only infantry to meet him—at daybreak, on Potosi Creek. It has rained hard for two days, and the rivers are rising. ADAIR, who had 325 men, had been driven across the Illinois River above Tallequah, and he had gone East, feeling himself about to be taken between the rivers.

QUANTRELL passed the Verdigris and Arkansas last night by forced marches. The rivers are up this morning. My scouts were on his trail at daybreak, twenty miles southwest, across the Arkansas River, again. I have a force there, under Capt. KAYHAN, that may meet him. We are suffering here for the trains.

WM. A. PHILLIPS,
Colonel Commanding.

FATAL ACCIDENT ON THE THIRD-AVENUE RAILROAD.—A laboring man, name unknown, was run over and instantly killed, last evening, by car No. 105, of the Third-avenue line. It appears that the man had some trouble with the driver of the car, JOHN FORSYTH, who pushed or threw him off the car, which ran over and instantly killed him. The police of the Eighteenth Precinct arrested the driver and took him to the station-house. The body of deceased was conveyed to the Bellevue Dead-house. He was dressed in a brown sack, gray knit jacket, brown Kossuth hat, and heavy shoes. He had brown hair, and was about forty years of age.

U. S. 10-40 BONDS.

These Bonds are issued under the Act of Congress of March 8, 1864, which provides that all Bonds issued under this Act shall be EXEMPT FROM TAXATION by or under any State or municipal authority. Subscriptions to these Bonds are received in United States notes or notes of National Banks. They are TO BE REDEEMED IN COIN, at the pleasure of the Government, at any period not less than ten nor more than forty years from their date, and until their redemption FIVE PER CENT. INTEREST WILL BE PAID IN COIN, on Bonds of not over one hundred dollars annually, and on all other Bonds semi-annually. The interest is payable on the first days of March and September in each year.

Registered Bonds are recorded on the Books of the United States Treasurer, and can be transferred only on the owner's order. Coupon Bonds are payable to bearer, and are more convenient for commercial uses.

Subscribers to this loan will have the option of having their Bonds draw interest from March 1, by paying the accrued interest in coin, (or in United States notes, or the notes of National Banks, adding fifty per cent. for premium,) or receive them drawing interest from the date of subscription and deposit.

As these Bonds are exempt from municipal or State taxation, their value is increased from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate of tax levies in various parts of the country.

At the present rate of premium on gold they pay over eight per cent. interest in currency, and are of equal convenience as a permanent or temporary investment.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as the various descriptions of United States Bonds. In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties, or stock companies, or separate communities only, is pledged for payment, while for the debts of the United States the whole property of the country is holden to secure the payment of both principal and interest in coin.

These Bonds may be subscribed for in sums from $50 up to any magnitude, on the same terms, and are thus made equally available to the smallest lender and the largest capitalist. They can be converted into money at any moment, and the holder will have the benefit of the interest.

The fact that all duties on imports are payable in specie furnishes a fund for like payment of interest on all Government Bonds largely in excess of the wants of the treasury for this purpose.

Instructions to the National Banks acting as loan agents were not issued from the United States Treasury until March 26, but in the first three weeks of April the subscriptions averaged more than TEN MILLIONS A WEEK.

Subscriptions will be received by the Treasurer of the United States at Washington, and the Assistant Treasurers at New-York, Boston and Philadelphia, and by the

THE CASE OF HUTCHINGS, THE "LIGHTNING CALCULATOR."

There was published in these columns a few days since the remarkable cure of Hutchings, the "Lightning Calculator," so well known to the public during the many years he exhibited his wonderful arithmetical powers at Barnum's Museum, by the celebrated Oculist and Aurist, Dr. Von Eisenberg, of this City. Hutchings is represented to have been at the point of death, and but for the timely interference of the Doctor, would now be resting in his grave. This is a remarkable case, and worthy of the attention of persons similarly afflicted.

We think it is but just to Doctor Von Eisenberg to call public attention to this case. There are hundreds in the community suffering from catarrh, who, like the "Lightning Calculator," if not actually praying for death, are ready to accept of anything that promises to relieve them from their distresses. To such we would say, trifle not with inexperienced men, but consult, without unnecessary delay, Dr. Von Eisenberg, who, at least, has the honesty to assure his patients whether it is within his power to make them whole or not.

DEAFNESS CURED.
From the Tribune.
EARS TO THE DEAF.

Every man, and especially every woman, believes in his or her physician. There are philosophical minds which hold to an abstract faith in Allopathy, or Homeopathy, or Hydropathy, or some other form of scientific cure; but with the world at large the belief is not in the system, but in the doctor. Especially is this true as regards aurists and oculists. The patient who has recovered his sight or his hearing is sure that the blessing could have been restored to him by no other practitioner than that particular one by whom his eyes or ears were opened. Dr. Von Eisenberg is among our best-known aurists. He has not lent us ears as a brother practitioner has eyes, and in whose skill, therefore, we believe above all others. But we hear of him from those who esteem him not merely as a surgeon, but as a benefactor. A recent case has been related to us, for the truthfulness of which we can vouch, though we can name no names. The patient was a lady who had been deaf from infancy, as a consequence of some of the ailments to which children are liable. Latterly the disease had taken an acute form, and the patient was subject to intense suffering. The deafness was rapidly becoming complete, and the general health breaking down under the physical exhaustion attendant upon constant pain. Ordinary remedies and ordinary advice were useless, and Dr. Von Eisenberg was called in. We need not repeat his diagnosis, for that would be only a list of hard names to the general reader. But he detected at sight the seat of disease, first in one portion of the organism, then in another, and with manipulation as skillful as his insight was accurate, he removed the causes, and she who, from infancy, had heard with difficulty, and latterly hardly at all, was restored first to perfect hearing and then to perfect health. Dr. Von Eisenberg's advertisement reminds us of this case, which we thus briefly relate, though not at his solicitation. Let him that hath not ears, hear.

From the Christian Times.

SIGHT RESTORED.
CONCERNING EYES AND OCULISTS.

Of the five senses, that which we call seeing is the most important and most valued. In proportion as this sense fails us, we are reduced to helplessness. If entirely destitute of sight, how slow would be our progress in knowledge, and how limited our sphere of action and usefulness. Endowed with it, the universe becomes a new creation, clothed with beauty and diversified by that infinite variety which never fails to attract the mind and heart.

For several months past this has been a practical subject to us. An inflamed condition of the eyelids communicating itself to the pupil, rendered the discharge of daily duties not only painful, but dangerous. Attributing it to the effect of a cold, we endured it through the Spring, with the hope that with the return of warm weather it would entirely disappear. But in this we were doomed to disappointment. Summer returned, but not our wonted sight. What might have been the result, either of further neglect or of incompetent treatment, we cannot say.

Stating our case to a friend, he assured us that a similar one in his own family had recently been treated with entire success by Dr. Von Eisenberg, of this City. Satisfying ourselves by more particular inquiries that the doctor is no empiric, but a scientific oculist and aurist, we concluded to seek the benefits of his treatment, which we have now reason to acknowledge is very great. Though but a few weeks under his care, the appearance of our eyes has totally changed. The pupil is now full and clear, and the lids are entirely free from inflammation. The doctor says that the optic nerve has been weakened and the retina assumed a chronic inflammatory state, affecting more or less all the other tissues, and threatening, if neglected, to end in Amaurosis. Opthalmitis, is the term we believe, which oculists apply to eyes affected as were ours. Having obtained the much desired relief, we take great pleasure in acknowledging our indebtedness to the talent of Dr. Von Eisenberg, and of calling to it the attention of others who may be suffering from a similar or even worse condition of their eyes. It is said that Providence provides an antidote for every bane. It is certain that the eye is, in these times, subject to severer trials than formerly. Let us be thankful, then, that as we increase the tendencies which destroy the organ of vision, the progress of science keeps pace with these tendencies, if not in advance of them.

AMERICA AND HER COMMENTATORS.
By HENRY T. TUCKERMAN. 1 vol., 8vo. $2 50.

"The book indeed might be called the United States as seen from a hundred points of view, individual and national. The acuteness, candor and intelligence which Mr. Tuckerman displays in his wide and careful survey, cannot be too highly praised. No American library with any pretension to completeness can do without this expansive survey of the literature of American travel; while to the general reader it abounds in attractive descriptions of scenery and manners, sketches of character, lively anecdotes and valuable knowledge. We cordially commend the book to the attention of all lovers of American literature, institutions and character."—Boston Transcript.

FRESH NOTICES OF THE PRESS.
From the Boston Transcript.

The author evidently has been in contact with the domestic, political and social life so well described; his story foreshadows the present conflict; and its graphic scenes and authentic characters, with the interest of the narrative, will make it a favorite novel of the day.

From the Boston Evening Gazette.

It is far before most publications of the day of like pretension. It is a very attractive tale, and gives us a vivid picture of life with its integrity, beauty, intrigue, villainy, weakness, wickedness, snobbishness, and a glance at politics that has a world of truth and good sense in it. The characters are admirably drawn, every one to be identified by the delineation, and the whole story, from beginning to end, in plot and execution most satisfactorily written.

Resolved, That an installment of 20 per cent. upon all stock issued or subscribed for is hereby called, payable at the option of the stockholders, either to John Kerr, Treasurer of the Company, at Leavenworth City, or to Edward Learned, Financial Agent of the Company, at No. 48 Pine-st., New-York, on or before the 20th day of May next, and that the Secretary is hereby directed to cause this notice to be published in two or more papers of general circulation in each of the States of Kansas and Missouri, and also in each of the cities of New-York and Washington.

Resolved, That all authority to any person or party heretofore conferred to act as an agent or representative of this company, or claimed to be possessed by any person or party, is hereby revoked and rescinded, and all agencies or authority hereafter shall only be exercised by persons or parties authorized or recognized by the present or future Board of Directors, and that the Secretary be directed to give public notice of the revocation herein contained. HENRY FOOTE, Secretary.

NOTICE.—TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY EASTERN DIVISION, formerly called the LEAVENWORTH, PAWNEE AND WESTERN RAILROAD COMPANY, and all others whom it may concern: At a meeting of the Stockholders of the above named company, held at Leavenworth on the 4th and 5th days of April inst., the following preamble and resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, By the contract of four parts between this company, John C. Fremont, Ross, Steel & Co., and Edward Learned, approved by this meeting, large and valuable concessions of his interests as a stockholder have been made by said Fremont to promote the speedy construction of the road; and, whereas, it is probable that similar concessions may be agreed to by other stockholders; therefore,

Resolved, That the said Learned, as the financial agent of the company, be authorized and empowered to negotiate with any parties, who are the holders or are interested in the stock of the company, for the transfer and delivery to him, as financial agent of such, and so much of said stock as such parties may be willing so to concede—to be by him used, disposed of or distributed, in like manner and for the same purposes, as is in said agreement provided, with reference to the shares agreed to be transferred to him by said Fremont, and in consideration therefor, the said financial agent is authorized and empowered to mark and indorse upon the certificates of shares which may be retained by such shareholders, severally, or to which they may be entitled upon making any such transfers, that such retained or so entitled shares are full paid and not subject to assessment; provided that such marking or indorsement shall not be made as aforesaid in any case so as to apply or be of effect, as to more shares in this company than shall be equal to one-fourth of the number of shares so transferred to the said financial agent in pursuance hereof by such shareholders respectively, and thereafter all such marked or indorsed certificates shall be deemed full paid for the number of shares embraced in such indorsements respectively, and the stockholders making the concessions and transfers hereinbefore provided for shall forever after be held by the company free from any payments or liabilities for, or on account of, or in any manner relating to the shares which they shall so severally transfer to said financial agent.

Resolved, further, In case it shall occur that from any cause any of the shares which may be transferred to the financial agent as aforesaid, or in pursuance of the aforesaid contract, shall at any time be found to belong wholly or in part to any other person or party, than the person or party who shall have so transferred the same, the said financial agent shall be and hereby is authorized, to transfer to such person or party, as shall so be found to be the rightful owner thereof, the shares so erroneously transferred to him.

Resolved, That the holders of certificates, obligations, or other memoranda issued in the name or on behalf of the company, which are claimed to entitle such holder to full paid or unassessable shares of the capital stock, be notified by the directors, by public advertisement, or in such other manner as the directors may determine, to present the same, together with any evidences of their right to require such shares to be made full paid or unassessable as aforesaid, to the Executive Committee of the company, in the City of New-York, within sixty days next following the issuing of such notices respectively, in order that all such certificates, obligations, or memoranda may be adjudicated, and proper formal certificates be issued in lieu thereof, in so far as such holders shall be deemed to be entitled thereto, by said Executive Committee. In case any holder shall refuse or omit to present his certificate, obligation, or memoranda, as aforesaid, and for the purposes and within the time aforesaid, or in case any of the evidences furnished as aforesaid shall be deemed by the Executive Committee to be insufficient to entitle the holder to such full paid shares, the officers of the company shall thereafter release to recognize or admit any liability of the company to make or issue full paid shares, on account of any such particular certificates, obligations or memoranda, or to treat the same in any manner as full paid shares, except upon the claims of bona fide holders thereof being established by due process of law, or upon competent legal evidence that such claims are obligations on the company, in the event of any irregularity or defective equity in the claim of any holder of any such certificate, obligation or memorandum, the Executive Committee are hereby authorized to adjust the claims of any such holder, in such manner as said committee shall deem equitable, and to cause to be issued in settlement thereof such number of full paid shares as said committee shall so deem to be just and equitable.

Pursuant to the foregoing resolutions, and to directions of the Executive Committee, all persons interested are requested to transmit to the undersigned, at his office, No. 48 Pine-st., in the City of New-York, such statements and papers as will render the proposed benefits available to them respectively, and secure the same within the time prescribed in the resolution: viz. sixty days from the date hereof.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

ENGINEER'S OFFICE, PARKERSBURGH, Va.,
April 20, 1864.

The Baltimore and Ohio, and Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad Companies will receive sealed proposals at this office until the 13th day of May next, for the mason work of the Railroad Bridge to be built over the Ohio River at Parkersburgh, West Virginia.

Plans and specifications can be seen at the Engineer's office, at Parkersburgh. The companies reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

Payments monthly, in cash, with proper reservation as security for the fulfillment of the contract.

This will be an extensive work, well worth the attention of first-class contractors.

JAMES L. RANDOLPH, Engineer.

ORDNANCE OFFICE, WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, May 1, 1864.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED at this office until MONDAY, the 23d day of May, 1864, for the delivery at the following Arsenals, Cavalry Accoutrements, United States Cavalry pattern, as hereinafter specified.

At the New-York Arsenal, 25,000 sets.
At the St. Louis Arsenal, 5,000 sets.
At the Frankfort Arsenal, 10,000 sets.
At the Allegheny Arsenal, 10,000 sets.

These Accoutrements are to be made in strict conformity with the regulation pattern, which can be seen at the above-named places. Each set is to consist of one Sabre-belt and Plate complete; one Carbine-sling with swivel complete; one Sabre-knot; one Carbine Cartridge box; one Pistol Cartridge-box or Pouch; one Belt-holster for army-size revolver, and one Cap-pouch with cone pick. All of which are to be made of the best materials and workmanship. The Sabre-belt, Sabre-knot, and Carbine-sling are to be of BUFF LEATHER BLACKED, and the Cartridge-boxes, Belt-holster, and Cap-pouch, of PURE OAK TANNED LEATHER.

It is distinctly understood that this Department is to have the privilege of inspecting the work done under any contract it may award, in all stages of its progress; especially, to examine the stock before cutting. They are to be subject to the final inspection at the arsenal where delivered before being received by the Government. None are to be accepted or paid for but such as are approved upon inspection.

Deliveries must be made in lots of not less than one-tenth (1-10th) per week of the whole number contracted for; the first delivery to be made on the 20th day of June.

Failure to make deliveries at a specified time will subject the contractor to a forfeiture of the number he may fail to deliver at that time.

The Accoutrements must be boxed in the usual manner: the boxes to be charged cost, to be determined by the inspector.

Bidders will state explicitly the Arsenal, or Arsenals, where they propose to deliver, and the number of sets they propose to deliver at each place, if for more than one.

No bids will be considered from parties other than regular manufacturers, and such as are known to this department to be fully competent to execute in their own shops the works proposed for. Should any party obtaining a contract offer accoutrements other than those made in his own shops, they will be rejected, and the contract rendered null and void.

Bidders will enclose with their bids the written acknowledgments of their sureties over their own signatures.

Each party obtaining a contract will be obliged to enter into bond with approved sureties for its faithful execution.

Upon the award being made, successful bidders will be notified and furnished with forms of contract and bonds.

The department reserves the right to reject any or all bids if not deemed satisfactory.

Proposals will be addressed to "BRIG.-GEN. GEORGE D. RAMSAY, Chief of Ordnance, Washington, D. C." indorsed, "Proposals for Cavalry Accoutrements."

GEORGE D. RAMSAY,
Brigadier-General, Chief of Ordnance.

NOW READY—COMPLETE.
THE VENDETTA;

A LESSON OF LIFE.
BY SEPTIMUS R. URBAN.
ILLUSTRATIONS BY DARLEY.
PRICE 25 CENTS.

The striking peculiarity of Mr Urban's stories is that he successfully sustains the mystery of denouement to the last—sustains it so adroitly as to puzzle the conjectures of even determined novel readers, who are familiar with the unravelment of ordinary plots; and, though there is a certain degree of mystery in his plots, there never is the slightest improbability.

MUSICAL.

CHICKERING & SONS

MANUFACTURERS OF GRAND, SQUARE, AND UPRIGHT PIANO-FORTES, No. 652 BROADWAY.—The superiority of these instruments has of late been amply demonstrated by the voluntary testimony of the foremost artists of the day, who claim for them excellencies of tone and workmanship hitherto unobtained by any other makers.

Mr. GOTTSCHALK'S constant use of the NEW SCALE CHICKERING GRAND PIANO-FORTES has severely tested their musical qualities, and resulted in establishing the justice of the very flattering estimation in which they are held.

BRADBURY'S

GOLD MEDAL
NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTES,
after thorough and repeated tests by GOTTSCHALK, MASON, MILLS, SANDERSON, FRADEL, MORGAN, HELLER, TIMM, PATTERSON, and many others of the most competent judges, are pronounced "superior in power, purity, richness and quality of tone and thoroughness of workmanship." See their letter in my last circular. Seven First Premiums, including two Gold Medals, were received by Mr. Bradbury within four weeks, at the State fairs; and at the American Institute of 1863, "for the BEST PIANO-FORTE, A GOLD MEDAL." Warerooms No. 427 Broome-st., one block east of Broadway.

WM. B. BRADBURY.

STEINWAY & SONS'

GOLD MEDAL GRAND AND SQUARE PIANOS are now considered the best in Europe as well as this country, having received the first Prize Medal at the World's Exhibition in London, 1862.

The principal reason why the Steinway Pianos are superior to all others, is, that the firm is composed of five practical pianoforte makers, (father and four sons,) who invent all their own improvements, and under whose personal supervision every part of the instrument is manufactured. Warerooms, Nos. 71 and 73 East 14th-st., between Union-square and Irving-place, New-York.

MASON & HAMLIN'S CABINET ORGANS, FOR FAMILIES, CHURCHES AND SCHOOLS—Recognized by the musical profession as greatly superior to Harmoniums, Melodeons and all other small organs. [See our illustrated catalogue for explicit testimony to their superiority, from a majority of the most eminent organists in America.] Prices, $85 to $500 each.

CAUTION TO PURCHASERS.—The great reputation which our Cabinet Organs have obtained, and the extensive demand for them, have induced dealers to advertise, in some cases, quite different instruments as Cabinet Organs, and in others to represent to purchasers that Harmoniums and other reed organs are the same thing. This is not true. The excellences of our Cabinet Organs, which have given them their high reputation, are the result not merely of the superiority of their workmanship, but also, in large measure, of essential differences in construction, which, being patented, cannot be imitated by other makers. From these arise their better quality and volume of tone and unrivaled capacity for expression. Warerooms in New-York, No. 7 Mercer-st.

MASON BROTHERS.

NEW MUSIC.—"THE DYING DRUMMER," one of the sweetest songs ever published:

CHORUS—Have you come to see your darling
Die upon the battle-field,
Far from home, so sad and lonely,
Have you come your boy to shield?

"This hand never struck me, Mother," a very touching and beautiful song, suggested by seeing a little girl take the hand of her dead brother, and looking at her mother through her tears, said, "This hand never struck me, mother."

The above songs are from the pen of the popular composer, Mrs. Parkhurst, and are perfect gems. Price, 30 cents each. Mailed free. HORACE WATERS, Publisher, No. 481 Broadway, New-York.

100 NEW AND SECOND-HAND PIANOS, melodeons, Alexandre and cabinet organs to let, and rent allowed if purchased. Monthly payments received for the same. Second-hand pianos at great bargains for cash; price from $60 to $200. New seven-octave pianos, at $225, $250, $275, $300, and up to $700. One seven-octave second-hand grand piano, price $700 new, will be sold for $300, or rented for $10 per month. 10,000 sheets of music, a little soiled, at 1½ cents per page. Marine Disaster.

WRECK OF THE BRITISH BRIG NELLIE.

PORTLAND, Me., Tuesday, May 3.

British brig Nellie, Capt. LEWIS, from Turk's Island for Portland, with 11,848 bushels of salt, in coming into this port through Whitehead passage, went ashore on Spindle Ledge, and will probably be a total loss. A steamship went to her assistance with a life-boat and took the Captain off, the crew having left before. Wreckers are employed to save as much as possible this tide.

LOSS OF THE BRIG ELIZABETH.

NEW-HAVEN, Tuesday, May 3.

The brig Elizabeth, of Bangor, laden with coal and bound to Boston, went ashore on Sharks' Reef, off Bradford, on Monday night. Her crew were taken from the rigging, where they had remained for 12 hours, by a boat's crew from Fairhaven. The brig was 19 years old, and was valued at $17,000. She will probably prove a total loss.

Another Meeting of the Commercial Brokers.

An adjourned meeting of the Commercial Brokers was held at the Produce Exchange yesterday, Mr. E. HAYDOCK WHITE in the chair, and Mr. CHARLES TAYLOR officiating as Secretary. The attendance was very slim, owing, doubtless, to the fact that no public announcement had been made that such a meeting would be held. The chairman explained briefly that the committee, which had been sent to Washington to look after the interests of the commercial brokers, had made an informal report, to the effect that they had been assured that the new Tax Bill was not designed to injure any class in particular, and that the provision relating to commercial brokers had been so modified that they would have only to pay $20 a year each for a license. It appeared, however, to the committee, as it did to the chairman of the meeting, that there was a direct conflict between the clause relating to produce brokers and that relating to commercial brokers. The committee held—and they were given to understand that such was the meaning of the authors of the new tax bill—that brokers in flour, grain and provisions were as strictly commercial brokers as any other merchandise brokers, and that, under the pertinent clause of the new tax bill, they will have to pay only the annual license fee of $20 each, in addition to the tax on income. According to the wording of the clause of the new tax bill, immediately preceding that just mentioned, however, all brokers in agricultural or farm products (such as flour, grain, &c., really are) are classed as produce brokers, and as such will be required to pay a tax of $10 on all annual sales under $10,000, and of $1 on every additional $1,000. Accepting this as the true interpretation of the clause, then the brokers doing business at the Produce Exchange would be subject to this tax, which the committee and the chairman of the meeting considered unjust and invidious. The brokers of the Produce Exchange were as truly commercial as brokers in sugar, coffee, metals, oils, or any other kind of merchandise, and should be taxed only as it was contemplated by the new bill to tax those who were specially mentioned as commercial brokers.

"Gentlemen," Mr. WHITE remarked, "you have heard the report of the committee; what do you propose to do?"

In view of the small number of brokers in attendance, a motion was offered, duly seconded, and, after some irregular discussion, adopted, to the effect that the meeting be declared adjourned to 1½ o'clock to-day, that more general notice be given of the intention to hold this adjourned meeting than had been given of the preceding one, so as to secure a full attendance of all interested parties.

The Defences of the Harbor.

THE FOURTH AND THIRTY-SEVENTH REGIMENTS.

The Fourth Regiment, Col. TELLER, who are said to be destined for Fort Richmond—on the order for thirty days duty in the defences of the harbor—did not, as was anticipated, leave yesterday, but will leave on Thursday.

Col. ASHLEY, of the Thirty-seventh Regiment, yesterday received orders to assemble his command on Friday, the 6th instant, for thirty days similar duty. He has issued the following orders:

HEADQUARTERS THIRTY-SEVENTH REGIMENT,
N. Y. S. N. G., NEW-YORK, May 3, 1864.

GENERAL ORDER No. 4.—In compliance with Division Orders of this date, this regiment will assemble at the Armory, No. 596 Broadway, at 10 o'clock on the morning of Friday, the 6th inst., fully uniformed and equipped for thirty days' duty in the defences of the harbor.

The field and staff will report to the Colonel, and the non-commissioned staff and drum corps to the Adjutant, at the same time and place.

The men will provide themselves with one day's cooked rations.

Prompt attendance will be required, as the regiment will be mustered into the United States service at 10 o'clock, and march at once to its post.

By order of Col. O. D. ASHLEY.
A. G. MONTGOMERY, Jr., Adjutant.

GENERAL ORDER No. 4.—The officers of the regiment will meet at the Armory, No. 596 Broadway, to-morrow (Wednesday) evening, at 8 o'clock.

By order of Col. O. D. ASHLEY.
A. G. MONTGOMERY, Jr., Adjutant.

THE CHATHAM-SQUARE CALAMITY—INVESTIGATION BEFORE CORONER RANNEY.—An investigation was commenced before Coroner RANNEY yesterday, at the Sixth Ward Station-house, with the view of ascertaining, if possible, the cause that led to the terrible calamity at the corner of Chatham-square and Dover-street, on Monday last. A large number of witnesses have been summoned to attend and give evidence in the case—two only were examined. JOHN SULLIVAN, who occupied the apartments in which the fire broke out, testified at length, but he seemed to be entirely ignorant as to the origin of the conflagration. His testimony threw no light on the question which the officials are investigating. NANCY SULLIVAN, a girl, 14 years of age, daughter of the witness above-named, testified to being awake at 3 o'clock in the morning, while her father and mother were down stairs engaged in emptying tubs of water, which were used by SULLIVAN in his business as a currier and dresser of leather. When this witness was awakened, she found the room in which she was sleeping filled with smoke. She, like her father, knew nothing as to the origin of the fire. The further investigation is adjourned until 11 o'clock this morning.

Coroner COLLIN held an inquest, yesterday, on the body of WM. HENNING, at the New-York Hospital. HENNING was the husband and the father of the family, the members of which were burned to death in the fire above alluded to. The jury rendered a verdict of accidental death.

DEAFNESS CURED,

BY

Dr. Von Eisenberg.

DEAFNESS AND CATARRH.

No. 23 FORSYTH-ST., NEW-YORK, Oct. 1, 1863.

Dr. Von Eisenberg:

DEAR SIR: Without recapitulating the numerous benefits I have received through your wonderful cure of the deafness I have labored under many years, the blessings I enjoy will convince the most skeptical.

I have tried many aurists, in Europe and America, without success. I was still deaf as a post.

Three years ago I entered your office, underwent one operation, hoping, yet doubting, I should receive any relief, but was agreeably disappointed in finding the genius of your profession.

The innate skill you possess cured my deafness in one almost painless operation.

The joy I experienced was indescribable; 'twas a new life to me.

My hearing is perfect to this day.

I strongly advise all who are suffering under a difficulty of hearing, or total deafness, to consult you immediately, as I also personally recommend all who apply to me. The numerous calls trespass on my time and patience, yet, remembering my own long, weary affliction causes me to pity them.

This is not written to advertise your well-known, unrivaled reputation—that would be peurile; but as a measure of precaution, to induce all to call on you at once, without troubling me; yet I do not refuse to see any one who comes to me. This is the only way I can show my gratitude.

I also call the attention of those who are suffering from Catarrh, which disease I have labored under one year or more.

I experienced difficulty in breathing, langour, heaviness over the eyes, a sense of tightness on the brain, and copious expectorations of a hard and viscid nature. Accompanying this is a "polypus," quite filling the right nostril. On the 25th ult. you operated on both, killing the polypus, which is gradually passing away, and giving me great relief from the Catarrh. One more operation will effectually cure.

This testimonial brings with it my unalloyed and grateful thanks, with but a poor delineation of your wondrous skill as an Aurist.

I am, Sir, yours very gratefully,
EDWARD TEMPLE HARRISON.

FROM REV. FRED. S. JEWELL,

PROFESSOR OF THE STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, ALBANY, N. Y.

This may certify that I have been, since 1844, subject to violent periodical attacks of catarrh, marked by a highly inflamed condition of the lining membrane of the cavities of the head, producing a most distressing species of headache, for days at a time, wholly incapacitating me from business, and, during the paroxysms, confining me to the bed. In some instances the inflammation has extended to the teeth, occasioning toothache; to the throat, producing hoarseness and partial loss of voice; and twice it has so affected the left eye as to confine me for a month or more to a darkened room. These attacks have been accompanied by strong febrile symptoms; by stoppages of the head, and in the first stages by watery discharges from the nose, and subsequently becoming acrid and yellow, and, toward the close of the attack, becoming bloody and purulent. I have tried medicines of almost every kind; external applications to the head, such as camphor, ginger, hot vinegar, snuffs of some half dozen kinds, and other catarrhal preparations, together with internal remedies, such as alteratives, cathartics and emetics. These have produced no change in the occurrence or character of the disease, and, in most cases with little or no temporary relief. I had come, at length, to believe the disease to be practically beyond either cure or material alleviation.

Under these circumstances, I was led, some five months ago, to make a trial of Dr. Lighthill's treatment. His method at once approved itself to my judgment as simple, philosophical, and likely to be effective. Notwithstanding the disadvantages under which he labored in dealing with a disease of such long standing, aggravated by nervous debility and dyspepsia, and constantly induced by the accidents of my professional labor, I found the treatment reaching the disease as it had never been reached before, and producing such a modification and alleviation of its character as I had supposed impossible. I chronicle the result thus:

Although I have been situated several times so that I should formerly have believed a severe attack of my catarrh inevitable, I have escaped thus far; the symptoms of threatened attack have been very light, and have yielded to the remedies employed by Dr. Lighthill, without the need of recourse to the old hot fermentations, or emetics, and the discharges from the head have resumed the original and natural condition. That I have been able to obtain so material a relief is to me a cause of gratitude. In that alone I am repaid for whatever the treatment may have cost me.

I make this statement unsolicited, as a means of acknowledging my obligations to Dr. Lighthill's method of treating catarrh, and with a view to aid any who may have suffered from that disease in forming a just opinion of its merits, and its probable utility in their own case.

FREDERICK S. JEWELL.

REMARKABLE CURE OF DEAFNESS.

From Rev. Joseph M. Clarke, Rector of St. James' Church.

SYRACUSE, Feb. 20, 1864.

I have been deaf in one ear ever since I was in College, some twenty years ago. By the skill of Dr. Lighthill, its hearing was entirely restored, so that now I hear alike with both ears, and I find that I can use my voice with much more ease and comfort than before.

JOSEPH M. CLARKE.

From the Rev. John Nott, D. D., Professor in Union College, Schenectady.

Since I first publicly acknowledged the great benefits which I received from the skillful treatment of Dr. Lighthill, in regard to my hearing, letters of inquiry have incessantly poured upon me from all parts of the country, from parties desiring to learn the particulars of my case, and I am indeed surprised at the number of individuals who are affected similar to the manner in which I have been, and, therefore, feel it more and more a sacred duty which I owe to these sufferers, to direct them to a proper and reliable source to obtain the benefit they so much covet, and which so many afflicted ones have hitherto sought in vain, just as I had done previous to applying to Dr. Lighthill.

I had from infancy one very deaf ear, which always discharged more or less offensive matter, and was the source of the greatest annoyance and discomfort to me. Last year the other ear also became diseased, and both ears discharged a yellow matter, very profuse and highly offensive. My hearing became very much impaired, and the discharge produced the greatest debility of body and depression of spirits. I applied to my family physician and other practitioners, without deriving any benefit, and almost despaired of being restored to health, when, providentially, I applied to Dr. Lighthill. Under his treatment my ears began to improve at once, and continued to do so until, in a comparatively short time, both ears were healed, the discharge removed, and my hearing restored. At first I feared the cure would not be permanent, or that the stoppage of a discharge of so long standing might prove detrimental to my general health—a fear which I find a great many entertain in regard to the removal of discharge from the ear. My experience, however, has proved conclusively that my apprehensions were entirely groundless in both respects, for both ears are as well, and my hearing is as good at present, as the day I left off treatment, and the stoppage of discharge, instead of proving detrimental to my health, has given the highest elasticity and vigor to my body, and a flow of spirits not experienced for a long time previous.

I wish that the above might serve as a general answer to the interested, but should one or the other desire to apply to me personally, or by letter, I will cheerfully satisfy reasonable demands upon my time.

I avail myself of this opportunity of again publicly expressing my deeply-felt gratitude to Dr. Lighthill, whom I esteem as a gentleman and a man of science, in whom the highest confidence may be placed. JOHN NOTT.

It has been from time immemorial the object of philanthropists to find some remedy for the ills of life, and scientific skill has for ages explored every avenue in order to discover the hidden secret. It has been, however, reserved for modern science to bring before the world the great destroyer of disease, and in HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS are concentrated all those virtues which tend to promote healthy and vigorous life. Unlike the generality of bitters, they are not an alcoholic mixture, but a pure tonic, composed entirely of vegetable substances. They are a positive cure for

Its virtues are known in every quarter of the inhabitable globe, and the wonderful cures which it is daily performing have won for it the highest post in the temple of science. With such recommendations, backed by incontestible and undoubted testimonials from those who have experienced its curative properties, giving to the public no assertion but what has passed through the crucible of truth, and supported by an array of splendid and hitherto unknown triumphs, what wonder is it that thousands rush to it for relief in the hour of danger.

NEW-YORK TESTIMONY.

From John B. Wickersham, Esq., firm of Wickersham & Hutchison, the celebrated manufacturers of fancy iron works, No. 259 Canal-st.:

* * * * *

I am the recipient from you of one of the greatest favors that can be conferred upon man, viz: That of health. For many years have I suffered from one of the most annoying and debilitating complaints that the human family can be afflicted with, Chronic Diarrhœa.

During the long time I was suffering from this disease I was attended by regular physicians, giving me but temporary relief. The cause seemed to remain until I was induced to try Hoofland's German Bitters. After the use of a few bottles of that valuable medicine, the complaint appeared to be completely eradicated.

I often inwardly thank you for such a valuable specific, and, whenever I have an opportunity, cheerfully recommend it, with full confidence in its reliability.

Truly, yours, JOHN B. WICKERSHAM.

FEBRUARY 8, 1864.

MESSRS. JONES & EVANS—GENTLEMEN: My mother-in-law has been so greatly benefited by your Hoofland's German Bitters that I concluded to try it myself. I find it to be an invaluable tonic, and unhesitatingly recommend it to all who are suffering from dyspepsia. I have had that disease in its most obstinate form—flatulence—for many years, and your Bitters has given me ease when everything else has failed. Yours truly, JULIUS LEE.

From that well known citizen, the

HON. JACOB BROOM:

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 7, 1863.

GENTLEMEN: In reply to your inquiry as to the effect produced by the use of "Hoofland's German Bitters" in my family, I have no hesitation whatever in saying that it has been highly beneficial. In one instance, a case of dyspepsia, of about thirteen years' standing, and which had become very distressing, the use of one bottle gave decided relief, the second effecting a cure, and the third, it seems, has confirmed the cure, for there has been no symptoms of its return for the last six years. In my individual use of it, I find it to be an unequaled tonic, and sincerely recommend its use to the sufferers.

Truly yours, JACOB BROOM, No. 1,707 Spruce-st.

The following well-known reverend gentlemen have acknowledged in writing the great benefits they have received from the use of these Bitters. Such testimony must certainly convince the most sceptical:

Rev. Levi G. Beck, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pemberton, N. J., formerly of the North Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Rev. Thos. Winter, Pastor of Roxborough Baptist Church, Pennsylvania.

Rev. J. S. Herman, of the German Reformed Church, Kutztown, Berks County, Penn

Rev. J. M. Lyons, formerly Pastor of the Columbus (N. J.) and Milestown (Penn.) Baptist Churches.

Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge and Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.

Rev. J. H. Turner, Pastor of Hedding M. E. Church, Philadelphia.

Rev. Warren Randolph, Pastor of Baptist Church, Germantown, Penn

Rev. Wm. Smith, formerly pastor of the Vincenttown and Millville (N. J.) Baptist Churches.

CONSTITUTION

LIFE SYRUP,

COMPOSED OF IODIDE POTASSIUM,
with the Compound Concentrated Fluid Extract of VALUABLE MEDICINAL ROOTS AND HERBS,

PREPARED BY WM. H. GREGG, M. D.,

Graduate College of Physicians and Surgeons, N. Y., formerly Assistant Physician Blackwell's Island Hospitals, late Medical Inspector New-York State Volunteer Depots, under Gov. Edwin D. Morgan.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP
HAS PRODUCED
A REVOLUTION IN MEDICINE!

What may seem almost incredible, is, that many diseases hitherto considered hopelessly incurable, are frequently cured in a few days or weeks, and we cheerfully invite the investigations of the liberal-minded and scientific to cures which have no parallel at the present day.

Our medicine is peculiar; by it the seat of any disease is directly reached, and the equilibrium restored.

Those who have suffered long from painful and obstinate diseases,

Those who have vainly sought relief from advertised medicines,

Those who cannot be cured by other physicians—

ARE INVITED TO USE CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

During the past five years we have contended with obstacles and overcome opposition as herculean as were ever encountered by any reformers.

RAPIDITY OF CURE.

Some say, "Your cures are too quick," while others doubt their permanence, and think that diseases can only be cured by the "slow recuperative process of Nature."

This is our reply:

In health, the body, like a well-balanced scale, is in a state of equilibrium. But when from any cause down goes one side of the scale, we have the effects of disease. What is requisite is, to restore the normal balance of the scale.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP,

a positive and specific remedy for all diseases originally from an IMPURE STATE OF THE BLOOD, and for all (hereditary) DISEASES transmitted from PARENT TO CHILD.

PARALYSIS.

HEMIPLEGIA. PARESIS. PARAPLEGIA, PARALYSIS AGITANS.

It is so universally admitted that Constitution Life Syrup is the only effective means of restoration in the various forms of Paralysis, that we need not reiterate that it is emphatically the Great Life-giving Power.

DYSPEPSIA.

INDIGESTION. LIVER COMPLAINT. CONSTIPATION.
WEIGHT AT STOMACH. BILIOUSNESS. WANT OF APPETITE.
FLATULENCE. BAD BREATH.

SCROFULA.

STRUMA, GLANDULAR SWELLINGS, ULCERATION,
KING'S EVIL, ERYSIPELAS, SALT RHEUM.

This taint (HEREDITARY and ACQUIRED), filling life with untold misery, is by all usual medical remedies incurable.

RHEUMATISM.

[ARTHRITIS.] NEURALGIA. TIC DOULOUREUX.
LUMBAGO. SCIATICA. GOUT.

If there is any disease in which the Constitution Life Syrup is a sovereign, it is in Rheumatism and its kindred affections. The most intense pains are almost instantly alleviated—enormous swellings are reduced. Cases, chronic or vicarious, of 20 or 30 years' standing, have been cured by us.

NERVOUSNESS.

NERVOUS DEBILITY, SHATTERED NERVES.
LOSS OF POWER. CONFUSION OF THOUGHTS.
ST. VITUS' DANCE. EPILEPSY.

Thousands who have suffered for years will bless the day on which they read these lines. Particularly to weak, suffering woman will this medicine prove an inestimable blessing—directing their footsteps to a Hope which fulfills more than it promises.

MERCURIAL DISEASES.

SALIVATION. ROTTING OF BONES.
BAD COMPLEXION. ACHES IN BONES.
FEELING OF WEARINESS. DEPRESSION OF SPIRITS.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP purges the system entirely from all the evil effects of MERCURY, removing the Bad Breath, and curing the Weak Joints and Rheumatic Pains which the use of Calomel is sure to produce. It hardens Spongy Gums and secures the Teeth as firmly as ever.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

eradicates, root and branch, all Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, like

ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES,

and all other difficulties of this kind, which so much disfigure the outward appearance of both males and females, often making them a disgusting object to themselves and their friends.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP
CURES ALL SWELLING OF THE GLANDS,

either of the Face, Neck, or Female Breast, and should be taken as soon as the swelling is detected, thus preventing their breaking, and producing troublesome Discharging Sores, which disfigure so many of the younger portion of the community, from six to twenty years of age. Young children are very subject to Discharges from the Ears, which depends upon a Scrofulous constitution. These cases soon recover by taking a few doses of the Life Syrup.

All scrofulous persons suffering from general Debility, Emaciation, Dyspepsia and Dropsy of the limbs, abdomen, and in the female, Dropsy of the ovaries and womb, generally accompanied with Inflammation and Ulceration of the Uterus, are permanently cured by Constitution Life Syrup. The disease known as Goitre or Swelled Neck, the Life Syrup will remove entirely. The remedy should be taken for some time, as the disease is exceedingly chronic and stubborn, and will not be removed without extra effort.

Tumors of the Ovaries, Tumors of the Breast, and swelling of other glands of the body, will be completely reduced without resorting to the knife, or operations of any kind.

Epileptic Fits, Sympathetic or Organic Diseases of the Heart, as palpitation, Disease of the Valves, producing a grating or filing sound, Dropsy of the Heart Case and all the affections of this important organ, (persons suffering from any acute pain in this region of the heart) will be greatly relieved by Constitution Life Syrup.

BROKEN-DOWN AND DELICATE CONSTITUTIONS, SUFFERING FROM INDISPOSITION TO EXERTION, PAIN IN THE BACK, LOSS OF MEMORY, FOREBODINGS, HORROR OF CALAMITY, FEAR OF DISEASE, DIMNESS OF VISION, DRY, HOT SKIN AND EXTREMITIES, WANT OF SLEEP, RESTLESSNESS, PALE, HAGGARD COUNTENANCE, AND LASSITUDE OF THE MUSCULAR SYSTEM, all require the aid of the CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

FOR ALL FORMS OF ULCERATIVE DISEASES,

either of the NOSE, THROAT, TONGUE, SPINE, FOREHEAD, OR SCALP, no remedy has ever proved its equal.

MOTH PATCHES upon the female face, depending upon a diseased action of the Liver, are very unpleasant to the young wife and mother. A few bottles of Constitution Life Syrup will correct the secretion, and remove the deposit, which is directly under the skin.

In Diseases of the Liver, giving rise to Languor, Dizziness, Indigestion, Weak Stomach, or an ulcerated or cancerous condition of that organ, accompanied with burning or other unpleasant symptoms, will be relieved by the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP.

☞ AS A GENERAL BLOOD-PURIFYING AGENT, THE LIFE SYRUP STANDS UNRIVALED BY ANY PREPARATION IN THE WORLD.

Diseases of the Spine, as usually developed in the young, Hip Disease, Neuralgia, and all nervous diseases, and ladies who are suffering from diseases for which they are at a loss to know what to do, we would advise the use of CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP. It will restore their pallid countenance, strengthen their weak back and side, give them new energy, new life and happiness.

THE RICH AND POOR

are liable to the same diseases. Nature and science have made the Constitution Life Syrup for the benefit of all.

PURE BLOOD

produces healthy men and women; and if the constitution is neglected in youth, disease and early death is the result. Do not delay when the means are so near at hand, and within the reach of all.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.

It is the safest and most effectual medicine ever discovered for purifying the system, and relieving the sufferings attendant upon childbirth. It strengthens both the mother and the child, prevents pain and disease, and increases and enriches the food. Those who have used it think it indispensable. It is highly useful, both before and after confinement, as it prevents disease attendant upon childbirth.

CONSTITUTION LIFE SYRUP

is the poor man's friend and the rich man's blessing.

Buy it, take it, and be cured.

IT IS UNIVERSAL IN ITS EFFECTS.
